Japanese Told Separate Peace Indicates War

Pact Would Create Hostility Peiping Radio Warns Tokyo

TOKYO, Aug. 22 (Wednesday) (INS)—A Peiping radio broadcast declared today that signing of a peace treaty by Japan at San Francisco early next month without participation of Communist China and Russia will mean a declaration of war against those two countries.

The Red broadcast, made in English, was based on an editorial in the Shanghai Communist newspaper Ta Kung Pao, run in the form of "an open letter to the Japanese people."

The editorial said:

"We believe that the Japanese people understand that a separate peace treaty without China and the Soviet Union means a declaration of war against these two countries."

It declared that "Japan has been turned into a colony by foreign rulers."

"Legally," the editorial said, "after the conclusion of a separate peace a state of war would still exist between these two countries and Japan.

"A separate peace which Yoshida (Premier Shigeru Yoshida of Japan) is willing to accept would create intimacy with distant countries but hostility to neighbors; peace on one side but war on the other three sides."

Reds Fire Second Complaint

MUNSAN, Korea, Aug. 22 (Wednesday) (AP)—The Communists Tuesday rejected in advance the United Nations finding on an alleged neutrality zone shooting and fired a second complaint before the first was fully answered.

An Allied spokesman struck back at the stubborn Red stand which threatened once more to upset the faltering Korean armistice talks.

Resumption of full-scale war across Korea hung on the outcome. Peiping radio hinted at such a grim prospect and called the alleged shooting "murder."

The Red Pyongyang radio Tuesday night announced that the Communist top negotiator, Lt.-Gen. Nam Il, was "not satisfied" with a preliminary reply he had received from the Allies on a shooting incident Sunday.

Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, the chief U.N. negotiator, had informed Nam earlier that preliminary investigation "does not substantiate" the Communist charge that Allied troops ambushed a Red patrol leader inside the five-mile neutrality zone.

Joy said: "I will reply fully to you when I have received a complete report of the investigation."

It was this message that Nam brusquely turned down with a demand for "severe punishment of the violators of the neutral zone and a guarantee of the non-recurrence of such incidents."

Clouds Useless To Ice Wagon

Clouds forecast today are not expected to be of much help in cloud-seeding experiments of the National Research Council "ice wagon" plane, the weatherman said last night.

The clouds are expected to be few and far between.

J. L. Orr, director of the B.C. experiment, said earlier that work would begin wherever clouds are thickest. The specially-equipped cloud-seeding aircraft has been based at Vancouver since Thursday, awaiting more favorable conditions.

Temperatures on the Island today will range from 70 up, tempered by winds of up to 25 miles an hour.

Daily Says Canadian Aid to Spies

NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (INS)—The New York Daily Mirror said tonight that a high official of the Canadian government has been named before the Senate internal security committee as a supplier of information to a Communist spy ring.

The newspaper said the information was given to the McCarran committee in Washington. It said that this official, whose name has not yet been made public, funneled badly-wanted data to Communist espionage agents.

Earlier this month, another Canadian official was pictured as a one-time Communist before a subcommittee open hearing. He was Edgerton H. Norman of the American and far Eastern division of the Canadian department of external affairs.

Iran Given Choice

TEHRAN, Aug. 21 (AP)—Britain gave Premier Mohammed Mossedegh an ultimatum tonight to abandon his stonewall stand against compromise in the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute by noon tomorrow or accept a breakdown of the negotiations.

(London dispatches said the British government is believed to be considering landing military forces at Abadan, Iranian oil refining centre, and thus risking a reaction from Russia, Iran's neighbor.

There was little hope in any quarter that Mossadegh would bow to Britain and avert a collapse of the 17-day-old talks. He appeared too tightly tied by his own and his spokesman's vitriolic attacks on Britain to risk political suicide by compromise.

W. Averell Harriman, president Truman's special envoy, who persuaded Britain to send a second mission to Tehran, had no comment on the apparently imminent breakdown of his carefully nursed negotiations.

The talks, according to British spokesmen, were being wrecked on Mossadegh's resistance to any form of British supervision or management.

He withdrew his eight-point proposal which would turn over all Iranian assets of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company to the National Iranian Oil Company. The proposal called for a 50-50 split of profits with a British marketing organization, and a non-profit British managing organization under A.I.O.C. to run the fields and refinery.

Princess Comes Of Age

Champagne Picnic Marks Royal Birthday

BALMORAL, Scotland, Aug. 21 (CP)—Princess Margaret turned 21 today with celebrations that included a champagne picnic on the moors of Balmoral Castle estate.

When the vivacious Margaret arrived with her big sister Elizabeth and their mother, the Queen, King George took custody of the hampers.

The King proposed a toast to his daughter and it was drunk, among others, by the Queen, Princess Elizabeth and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh.

The others included four of Margaret's special friends—Lord Ogilvy, Lord Porchester, the Earl of Dalkeith and William Wallace.

Back at Balmoral Castle Margaret examined congratulatory mail and telegrams and presided over a tea. "A homey private dinner" with about 25 guests, a lot of music and informal dancing was held tonight.

From royalty and commoners, gifts flowed to the princess.

Queen Mary was reported to have sent a diamond tiara. Margaret's parents gave her a pair turquoise bracelets and another pearl for the matched string started on her first birthday. Later this week, she will get a green convertible coupe. The Balmoral staff members chipped in two shillings each to buy Margaret an antique inlaid writing desk.

Church Bells Peal For Royal Birthday

THE bells of Christ Church Cathedral tolled a one-hour birthday message last night for Princess Margaret Rose, who was 21 yesterday.

In bell-ringer jargon, "quarter peals of 1,260 changes" were rung in the young Princess' honor.

Will Not Cut School Plans

Plans for the new Oak Bay Junior High School will not be cut despite earlier reports that several classrooms might have to be eliminated to bring costs into line with the original appropriation.

"When the school is built, it will be constructed as a full-sized junior high school as planned," said W. P. Jeune, chairman of the Greater Victoria School Board.

The lowest tender, from Luney Bros. & Hamilton Ltd., was for $689,000, about $54,000 higher than the amount approved by an Oak Bay money by-law.

Mr. Jeune would not disclose how the difference would be made up, but said the school board was working on the problem.

Fires Raging Unchecked In Two Areas

Machines Lost in Blazes At Sooke, and Cowichan

A thick pall of smoke hung over lower Vancouver Island early this morning as men and machines battled two major forest fires covering a total of more than 400 acres.

The East Sooke fire raged out of control last night, with more than 100 men working around the clock to check flames that have so far consumed about 400 acres of slash and scrub timber and have come perilously close to homes in the area.

At Honeymoon Bay on Cowichan Lake, about 100 men worked to check a 30-acre blaze which started on a small logging operation yesterday and had raced about two miles by press time.

Smoke from the East Sooke blaze swirled around Beacon Hill Park Tuesday afternoon. The meterological station in Vancouver reported smoke was carried there by a light wind.

Loss of equipment yesterday included two donkey engines at East Sooke and a donkey engine and two trucks at the Honeymoon Bay fire.

SAVE RESORT

Eighteen fire fighters at the East Sooke blaze slammed flames rushing toward the Glenairly summer resort. At one point, they were within 1,000 feet of the resort.

The Sooke R.C.M.P. detachment said last night that some residents of the area had moved a quantity of furniture from their homes earlier in the day.

The fire, first reported Monday, moved quickly overnight from 40 acres to nearly 400.

At Honeymoon Bay, a farm owned by Charles March was in danger early last night and fire fighters were guarding closely the Western Forest Industry Mill there. The fire was within two miles of the mill during the day.

The blaze was believed to have started on the Libell logging operation. Veteran loggers say a strong wind could fan flames back up to Camp 6 of the B.C. Forest Products operation.

A 25 m.p.h. wind is predicted for today.

A B.C. Forest Service spotter on Bald Mountain was threatened last night as fire started to race up a mountain side but the flames were checked and the post was later considered out of danger.

Bonner Declines To Stand

George Bonner, president of the Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association, has declined an invitation to run as an independent in the forthcoming Esquimalt by-election, it was learned yesterday.

According to a report received last night, Mr. Bonner was approached by W. A. C. Bennett, member for South Okanagan, who with Mrs. Tillie Rolston, Vancouver-Point Grey member, is seeking to back a "dark horse" independent.

CAN ACCOMPLISH MORE

Mr. Bonner had said earlier he felt his job lay with the ratepayers' group when it was first rumored he might contest the Esquimalt by-election.

"I feel that I can accomplish more for the people of Vancouver Island by working with the ratepayers' group, than by sitting in the legislature," Mr. Bonner said at that time.

It is believed Mr. Bonner had the special meeting with Mr. Bennett last night.

MUST SEEK FARTHER

This means that Mrs. Rolston and Mr. Bennett will have to keep searching for a dark horse candidate.

Candidates already in the field include Mayor Percy George, Coalition; Mrs. Mary Whisker, Independent; Archibald McIntyre, Independent; and Frank Mitchell, C.C.F. The Social Credit Party has indicated that they may nominate a candidate.

Oil Port Battens Down As Big Blow Approaches

TAMPICO, Mexico, Aug. 21 (AP)—The army took over all cars and trucks here today in preparation for a terrific hurricane whirling across the Gulf of Mexico toward this oil port and some of Mexico's richest oil fields.

Authorities estimated the number of persons to be moved to the centre of the city on higher ground at "thousands."

The storm is expected to hit this city of 100,000 population tomorrow before noon.

The centre of Tampico is built on a hill, but the outlying districts are on low ground subject to flooding.

News of the approach of the hurricane which swept across Jamaica last week, taking 155 lives and causing damage estimated at £20,000,000, caused widespread alarm.

Householders tied down their roofs and reinforced windows and doors.

Ships in the port doubled their lines and called back crew members on shore. Small fishing craft, warned of the approaching storm by radio, streamed into port during the day.

The port captain said all ships in the Tampico area are safe in port and he forbade any to leave until the big blow was over.

Earlier today hurricane winds were reported up to 130 miles an hour.

Reds Preach, Do Not Practice Abolition of All Exploitation

In this third article of his personal story of life in Soviet Russia today, Adile Kasha tells how the farmer, the worker, the soldier are exploited by Communism. Kasha is now safe in the American zone of Austria after deserting the Soviet army.

By ADILE KASHA

Copyright, 1951, by International News Service

SALZBURG, Aug. 20 (INS)—"The U.S.S.R. is a model of how to build a society in which exploitation has been abolished for ever."

That is the "truth" about Russia, according to a modest little lecture I once received from a Soviet labor leader.

In my lifetime I have been a farmer, a laborer and a soldier in Communist Russia. A more fitting slogan for the Communist "model" state might be:

"What's mine is mine, and what's yours is mine."

I was a typical laborer in the post-war years from 1947 to 1950, until I rejoined the Soviet army in a fit of despondency.

THIRD DEDUCTED

As a loom operator in a textile mill in my town of Stalinabad I earned the equivalent of $50 a week, then lost almost one-third in taxes, "voluntary" loans to the government and donations to special Communist causes.

A pound of butter cost me $1, new shoes were $65, if I could find them. To buy a new pocket watch I would have to work about 90 hours to earn enough money.

Although the work week was specified at 48 hours, I stood around for hours some days waiting for material, then was forced to work those hours on "voluntary" overtime to make up my quota.

A party member once brought me before a people's court for being late 35 minutes. The bus carrying me to the factory had broken down. I had 25 per cent deducted from my wages for three months. I could have been fired.

JAIL TERMS

I have seen men receive six-month jail terms (forced labor in a local jail, not a corrective camp) for quitting work one hour early. In one case it was because a man wanted to see his wife, critically hurt in an accident.

In "defense" plants the sentences are as high as eight years in a labor camp for being late three times, no matter how far apart the tardiness is spread.

I once spoiled a piece of finished material worth about $15 and was fined $5. If my work record had been worse I could have been fined up to ten times the value.

The trade unions are really official government bodies whose main job is to enforce Communist economic policy. They cannot bargain for higher wages because these are set by the government.

The only time I remember their defending the workers' views was when they wanted to stop the government from drafting children from 12 years and over into trade schools and for a sort of on-job training in factories.

They lost the fight. I have worked next to 12-year-olds.

The lot of plant managers, technicians and highly skilled men is better than that of the average laborer, but still only about half as good as what I have seen in western Europe.

These conditions for the worker exist after three decades of Communism, which continuously has boasted about its struggle to improve his lot.

What should be said of agriculture, where the trend has

Railway Talks Concluded By Johnson

OTTAWA, Aug. 21 (CP)—Premier Byron Johnson of British Columbia expects to leave here tomorrow for Victoria after a series of discussions with officials of the federal government and the Canadian National Railways.

Mr. Johnson arrived here last week and then went to Montreal for discussions with the C.N.R. on extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. The extension now is almost completed and the discussions were aimed at ironing out details of running rights.

In Ottawa, Mr. Johnson has discussed old-age pensions and civil defense problems with federal authorities.

Quintuplets Expected In Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 21 (INS)—The Chicago Herald-American said today it has learned that a Chicago-area woman soon will give birth to quintuplets or possibly sextuplets.

The newspaper's story said the multiple birth is expected late this month or early in September and added that specialists called in on the case believe the chances of survival are excellent.

Names of the expectant mother and her physician were withheld for "protection of the parties involved."

The newspaper said expert obstetricians "honestly disagree on the number" of children expected. It added:

"Some, using stethoscopes, have detected the heart beats from six babies. All have easily detected five heart beats."

Jet Crash Toll Boosted to 13

FORT DIX, N.J., Aug. 21 (INS)—The death toll in the "ball of fire" Fort Dix jet plane crash rose to 13 today when two of the injured soldiers died at the post hospital.

Nineteen other soldiers remained hospitalized with injuries suffered when the ill-fated craft crashed in flames into a group of field artillery trainees gathered at a bivouac area to study communications work.

All the victims came from the New Jersey, New York and Connecticut area except the pilot, Capt. William Rauh, 31, who made his home in Seattle, Wash.

Three City Departments Will Be Amalgamated

Three city departments are to be amalgamated, presumably in the interests of economy and efficiency.

They are the parking meter section, the paint and sign shop and the signal service branch.

A special report is being prepared by city manager C. C. Wyatt, city engineer Cyril Jones, electrical engineer Kenneth Reid and traffic surveyor Robert Doble.

TO SHOW COMPARISON

The report will show a comparison of the present number of employees, with the proposed number required.

A light mechanical workshop will be set up at the Garbally Road yard. Work there will include maintenance of parking meters and traffic and communication signals.

The public works committee yesterday approved the purchase of a house at Tyee Camp for use as a workshop. Cost of the building will be $300; cost of moving $450 and cost of setting up and alterations $250.

As the city manager gets more time, it is understood he will be making studies of other city departments. It has been hinted by aldermen he has plans for changes that will effect great savings for the city.

Seaplane Lost on Vancouver Island Subject of Grim Hoax as Note Faked

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (CP)—Queen Charlotte Airline sea plane missing on Vancouver Island with seven men aboard for more than two weeks has been the subject of a grim prank.

A rum bottle with a note in it purportedly from survivors of the crash was found floating in Burrard Inlet Sunday.

It has been proved to be a hoax by R.C.M.P. and R.C.A.F. officials.

"To Q.C.A., Vancouver, B.C.," the note, found by Ed Nahanee, business agent of the Native Brotherhood of B.C., began.

"Plane wrecked; Pilot Blair and Co-Pilot Kerr O.K. One dead, three seriously injured. Others O.K. position 30 degrees N, 150 degrees W. Please hurry."

AT MOUTH OF RIVER

Mr. Nahanee said he found the bottle floating at the mouth of the Capilano River.

"It was partly printed and partly written, all in pencil, on the inside of an outer cover of a tobacco package," he reported.

R.C.A.F. officials said the note was "obviously" a hoax because of the names and the position. Pilot of the plane which went down somewhere on the Island's west coast was Ted Williams.

The plane had no co-pilot.

The position given is somewhere in the Pacific about 300 or 400 miles northeast of the Hawaiian Islands.

ALL ABOARD

By G. E. Mortimore

A colleague got married three weeks ago and has just made the fact public.

According to the story I heard, the job was done by a casual cleric who flung a coat over his gardening clothes and cantered indoors to drone, "Do you take this woman?" Then he strolled back to his nasturtiums.

And our two friends [illegible] telling no one but two or three trusted confidants. For some time afterward they met secretly as people do in the movies.

Because marriage does not immediately change either of them in appearance, a wise couple like this can carry on a gentle masquerade almost as long as they please. Then they can present their marriage as an accomplished fact when it is far too late to do anything about it.

They thus avoid all the fluttering, the trite questions, the stupid jokes and the simpering by coy old matrons.

The marriage ceremony in our tribe has advanced a certain distance from the primitive. It does not demand that married people have their foreheads branded, or wear rings in their noses.

However, the wedding is still one of the most tedious and exasperating rituals which women ever invented to plague men.

Perhaps you can't blame women for making a song about their wedding. To put it politely, marriage is women's profession. The wedding ceremony is the way they announce their success. It means more to them than the first big pay packet means to a man.

A few women are primarily interested in making their husbands happy, rather than in arousing envy and excitement among other women. These rare souls agree to renounce all the folderol and public cackling and prancing, and just get married.

They relieve everyone concerned of much nervous strain and boredom, and earn their husbands' everlasting gratitude.

* * *

For everyone but the principals and a few thousand inquisitive women, a wedding is a trite occasion. It is so banal that even the smart girls who work for the social page of a newspaper make it sound duller than a government report. Read one wedding story and you have read them all.

The words are shuffled slightly and the names are different, but otherwise it is the same old story told in the same old way.

"St. Swithin's Church was the scene of a pretty wedding, when . . ."

"A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Swithin's Church when . . ."

"In a setting of daisies and dandelions at St. Swithin's Church, the Rev. James Fogg united in marriage . . . the pretty bride wore . . ."

The social girls scratch about feverishly for a new angle, but seldom find one. If the bride wears a pewter safety-pin which belonged to her great-grandmother, this atonishing fact is chronicled in headlines with little shrieks of delight. Nobody cares what the groom wore. He could wear a Roman toga without stirring a single comment.

Yet women scramble for the social page and read all this guff with evident pleasure. Why? Because when women talk about weddings, they are talking shop.

* * *

Of all the ceremonies which accompany a wedding, the reception is the most tedious of all. No matter how charming the bride and groom may be, and no matter how hard they try, the reception is always tedious.

I have attended a number of wedding receptions, and if you want my opinion, a good rollicking funeral has them all beaten hands down for honest merriment. The moment I enter a wedding reception I am plunged into deep despair.

Guests are divided into two hostile groups, friends of the groom and enemies of the groom, plus a third group of people who have blundered in under the impression that someone is throwing a party. They soon learn their mistake when the drinks peter out 10 minutes after the clambake has started.

Everybody moons about in wooden attitudes and makes vain stabs at conversation which are doomed to failure, because the people are all strangers to one another and have nothing in common.

Many of the people who appear at wedding receptions are never seen anywhere else. On a wedding day they emerge from the woodwork like pale, inert grubs. When the ghastly affair is over they disappear again into hibernation, and a good thing, too.

Nigeria Cool, Prices Low, Says Visitor

By RAY BAINES

A dark, slim young man walked into a Victoria grocery store yesterday and was shocked at the prices of food . . . and no wonder.

For the past two years, 28-year-old A. R. Maurer has been paying two cents a quart for milk, about 25 cents a pound for meat and two cents for a whole bunch of bananas. His weekly food bill for his wife and two children has been $3.

Where is this Utopia? Nigeria, [illegible] has been stationed as a botanist with the British Colonial Service.

FIVE MONTHS' LEAVE

The young U.B.C. and McGill graduate arrived back in Victoria Monday for five months' leave with pay at the expense of the Nigerian government.

Mr. Maurer went to work about two years ago as a botany specialist at an experimental station in Samaru, Zaria.

Even though his salary is slightly smaller than it might be for the same work here, he says he has been able to save a good deal more money because of the low living cost.

He admits the prices mentioned are not common to the whole of Nigeria, but because of location of his work, he is able to obtain agricultural products cheaper.

For each month of service, he receives one week's holiday with pay. He also receives a trip home at the expense of the government. It cost the Nigerian government about £1,400 to fly him and his family home to Victoria.

A. R. MAURER

"We'll probably use up all our savings just living here for a few months," said Mr. Maurer, "and besides, it's so hot in Victoria."

This was a bit hard to take. Surely in Nigeria everyone goes about in a loin cloth and refuses to go out in the midday sun?

MUCH COOLER IN NIGERIA

Even though there is a dry warm season, he said, June, July and August are steady and cool with day and night temperatures of about 65 or 70.

Nigeria, he said, is the largest British colony in the British Empire with a population of 20,000,000. He said the color bar is not as strong as it is in South Africa.

WORK IN GOVERNMENT

"Many of the colored people are now working in the 'senior service' of the government which is unheard of in the south," he said.

In this service, the negroes receive the same pay and enjoy the same housing privileges as the white people.

The economy is mostly agricultural with peanuts, cotton and sorghum (a kind of corn) being the most common crops. The only mineral found is tin, he said.

Does this all sound pretty good? Well, get packing, Mr. Maurer says the Nigerian government is very short of help and what's more, they like Canadians in the various government services.

Here's why a further quarter of a billion dollars is being invested by Aluminum Company of Canada in

"OPERATION ALUMINUM"

Aluminum is being put to so many uses these days that Canada's aluminum industry, begun at Shawinigan Falls in 1900, and already grown to giant size, is embarked on another vast expansion program.

More dams, powerhouses, smelting facilities in Quebec . . . a whole new operation in British Columbia . . . these great forward strides will further step up Canada's aluminum capacity to a total of more than half a million tons a year.

IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Project as planned calls for expenditure in the first stage of $200 million; the final stage when completed will increase this to $550 million. First stage to be completed 1954.

KITIMAT SMELTER

Lake, above Nechako River Dam, 500 square miles in area.

Kemano powerhouse, to be built ¼ mile inside mountain. Eventual capacity 2,000,000 h.p.

Today the names "Peribonka" and "Kitimat" mean nothing to most Canadians. Right now they head blueprints — blueprints of work in the planning stage, of work in progress—with thousands of men already on the job.

"Shawinigan", "Shipshaw" and "Arvida" were new names, too, many years ago. Today they are living reminders to Canadians — and to the world — that Alcan has grown, developing this country's resources so that now it produces a quarter of the world's aluminum supply.

On the Peribonka River in Quebec, Alcan is harnessing two cataracts — Chute-du-Diable and Chute-à-la-Savanne. These will provide hydro-electric power for a big addition to aluminum output and additional power resources for the Saguenay District.

Meanwhile, up coast 400 miles from Vancouver, a whole new aluminum operation is planned. Where now stands the tiny Indian village of Kitimat, a whole new town will be built; here Alcan will construct a huge smelter. At Kemano, 50 miles away, Alcan will build a powerhouse inside a mountain; a ten-mile tunnel through this mountain will carry water from a chain of lakes down a 2,600 foot drop to develop an eventual 2,000,000 h.p. capacity.

This "Operation Aluminum" means jobs for thousands of Canadians. It means additional millions of dollars coming into this country from abroad, for much of this aluminum will be exported.

It means additional low-cost aluminum for Canada's own use — metal which a thousand plants throughout the country use to fashion everything from utensils and toys to airplanes and bridges.

"Operation Aluminum" is a big thing for Canadians and for the free democratic world. It means a further line of defence against aggression. And it means a busier, more prosperous country in which to live and work.

IN QUEBEC

CHUTE-DU-DIABLE
250,000 h.p. installation. Begun autumn, 1950. Will be in operation May 1952.

CHUTE-À-LA-SAVANNE
250,000 h.p. installation. Begun summer, 1951. To be completed in 1953.

ISLE MALIGNE
Smelter. Output doubled. Construction underway.

BEAUHARNOIS
Smelter. Re-opened April, 1951.

50 YEARS AGO
the company's first smelter opened at Shawinigan Falls, and produced 130 tons of aluminum that year. The metal was just starting to make a market for itself.

TODAY
Alcan has 4 smelters — at Arvida, Isle Maligne, Beauharnois and Shawinigan Falls — with a capacity of nearly 500,000 tons. And this light, strong, non-rusting metal has found an almost limitless range of useful jobs to do.

Koreans View Canadians' Trial As Proof of U.N. Crackdown

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (CP)—Correspondent George Barrett says in a dispatch from Seoul to The New York Times today that many Koreans are watching the case of three Canadian soldiers charged with murdering a Korean as possible proof that United Nations authorities have decided to crack down on unruly troops.

The Times correspondent says the Canadians, members of the Royal Canadian Light Infantry, are coming up for court martial in Seoul next week in connection with the killing of three Koreans and wounding of another as the aftermath of an attempted rape. The Times writer said two British soldiers also were involved in the murders.

TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER

Writes Barrett: "One of those killed was a Korean army lieutenant, Yi Chang Sun, and it is his murder specially for which the three accused are to be tried.

"Five other Canadians are said to be involved in the crime, but to to a much lesser extent and these already have been punished. The two Britons also have been punished but the three Canadians now up for trial apparently will be the real test."

Barrett in his dispatch lauds "the forthright and determined decision" of Canadian authorities to track down the criminals. He says most observers view it "as a sign that a badly-needed campaign to shock some United Nations troops into awareness of basic human decency has begun."

CHINESE PROPAGANDA

He adds:

"Although Korean civilians have been brutalized by troops on both sides, the hard fact of the matter in Korea is that the Chinese, waging a propaganda war as intently as a shooting war, have impressed many Koreans with the discipline of their troops. Many residents of Seoul seem to go out of their way to tell about good Chinese behavior, and specifically about public executions the Chinese are said to have held following attacks on women.

"Details of the crime of which the Canadians are accused are particularly shocking. The greatest ill-effect from this crime is its seizure by the Koreans as a symbol of the wdespread contempt held by many United Nations soldiers for the people of this country, a contempt emphasized every day in the way the Koreans are pushed around."

Here is how Barrett describes the incident:

"Those up for trial are accused of invading a Korea home last March 17 and attempting to attack two women occupants while members of the criminal party restrained the men of the house who tried to protect the women. Finally the Korean men succeeded in freeing themselves and throwing out the troops.

THREW IN HAND GRENADE

"As the Canadians and two British soldiers withwrew from the house, somebody threw a hand grenade inside and killed three of the occupants and injured a fourth."

Barrett says Canadian investigators roamed the front lines to get evidence. They discovered a grenade handle with the fingerprints of one of the accused on it. Also, reports the Times correspondent, a 45-calbre bullet was dug out of the clay wall of the Korean hut and was found to fit the gun of one of the accused.

SEOUL, Korea, Aug. 21 (Reuters) — Three Canadian soldiers charged with murder will appear before a court martial at the Canadian field punishment camp tomorrow.

They are Pte. Glen Roland Blank of Winnipeg, Pte. Donald Michael Gibson of Ottawa and Pte. Alan Roy Montgomery Davis of Vancouver.

National defense headquarters in Ottawa would not confirm the names given by Reuters).

COL. W. C. DICK PRESIDENT

President of the court will be Col. W. Clement Dick of Toronto. Other members are Lt.-Col. R. A. Keane of Fort William, commanding officer of the 2nd Battalion Royal Canadian Regiment; Major D. R. Harrison of Newcastle, N.B., company commander 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, and Major A. B. Lacasse of Quebec City, company commander, 2nd Battalion, Royal 22nd Regiment.

Major R. Ferris of Saint John, N.B., commanding officer, Canadian Ordnance Company attached to 25th Brigade, will be waiting officer.

Judge Advocate will be Major J. A. Crowe of Quebec City, from army headquarters, Ottawa. Capt. Lawrence M. Hanway of Amherst, N.S., will be prosecuting officer. Lt.-Col. John A. Hutchins of Montreal will defend.

The accused men will be tried separately on the murder charge. Other charges will follow.

Lt.-Col. E. Ware of London, Ont., and Col. A. G. Chubb will be presidents of the court at the trials of the second and third men.

Taft Electioneering Or Mixed Up Script

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 21 (AP)—The audience wondered tonight if Senator Robert Taft had let the cat out of the bag.

The Ohio Republican, who says he hasn't decided whether to seek the Republican presidential nomination next year, warned members of a Republican men's group that they must work hard for victory in 1952.

"If Republicans get out [illegible] election," he said. He added hastily:

"I mean there's no doubt in my mind we can win."

Urge World Technicians To Rebuild South Korea

By JACK GEIGER

CHICAGO, Aug. 21 (INS)—The Bulletin of the atomic scientists called editorially today for technicians and scientists from all the world's free nations to join in rebuilding South Korea.

The Bulletin said experts—even those who were reluctant to work on military research projects would "gladly lend their knowledge and skills" to the project and it might then be possible to restore Korea's cities and industries in a few years.

Expenses were estimated at half the outlay to date for military armaments in Korea.

WORTH EXPENDITURE

"The consequent strengthening of the United Nations' prestige and of the American moral position in the world would alone be worth this expenditure . . ." the editorial said.

"The fact that this war was fought for the Korean people has often been all but forgotten.

"The decision to aim strategy at destroying the manpower and equipment of the enemy may have been militarily sound and inevitable, but daily boasting of the slaughtering record of this program was not a good way to convince the peoples of Asia of American humanitarianism and of American sympathy and respect for Asians . . ."

The Bulletin said failure to help in Korean reconstruction will indicate that the United Nations are "indifferent to the devastations and ruin which resistance brings upon those whose freedom it is meant to protect."

Nationalists Ordered Home

TAIPEH, Formosa, Aug. 21 (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists today accused their air force representative in Washington of failing to account for $19,440,000 and ordered him and an aide to come home.

A government spokesman said the funds entrusted to its representative, Lieut.-Gen. Mao Pang-Chu, was to buy equipment for the nationalist air force and to train its personnel.

Shortly after this announcement, the air force reported the dismissal of Mao's executive assistant, Col. Hsiang Wei-Hsian. It ordered him home to face charges of dereliction of duty, corruption and suspicion of being a Communist agent.

It was doubtful if either would return to Formosa. They were expected to seek political asylum in the United States. The Nationalist government in that case may try to extradite them.

Relations Good In Korea, Americans Say

OTTAWA, Aug. 21 (CP)—The American army's two top men struck back today at people who say the United Nations has already lost the war in Korea by incurring the hatred of the Korean people.

Army Secretary Frank Pace and army chief Gen. Joseph Lawton Collins told a press conference they know of "no major examples of poor relations between U.N. troops and the South Korean people." It was a minor problem.

"In fact," said Mr. Pace, "relations have been so good and our troops so well disciplined that we haven't had to indoctrinate them in civilian relationships to any degree."

He said he knew of no murder charges against U.S. soldiers such as those facing three Canadians. Gen. Collins added that in any community of 250,000 it would be amazing if there were no murders in more than a year.

Grain Ship Shortage Causing Worry

OTTAWA, Aug. 21 (CP)—A Commonwealth official said today that Canada's transportation shortage becomes a matter of urgency in view of the potential threat of war in Europe.

A slowing-down in grain movements to Canada's traditional European markets, he said, could bring chaos if the Communists decided to launch war in Europe this fall.

The official, who asked not to be identified, said he had been watching the shortage develop since last spring. Providing no war developed it would not at the moment greatly affect Canada's European wheat customers, including Britain.

Britain had a fairly good stockpile of wheat and could get along so long as there was a minimum movement of Canadian wheat overseas. But there could be a calamity if a war suddenly broke out.

"And historically," said the official, "war in Europe breaks in the autumn right after the autumn harvest."

Under the international wheat agreement Canada has an export quota of 231,000,000 bushels of wheat to be filled by July 31 next. Of this about 113,000,000 will go to Britain.

The shipping shortage, with the problem centred mainly on a lack of Great Lakes vessels, be[illegible] from harvests of a record 582,000,000-bushel wheat crop this year.

Of the 160,000,000 bushels, only about 5,000,000 were at eastern seaboard ports.

The committee, composed of representatives of the railways, ship operators and government grain and transport officials, is awaiting estimates of grain movement requirements from the Canadian Wheat Board, said Mr. Lessard, committee chairman.

He expected the board figures will be made available next week.

In Winnipeg, a board official said the figures are being compiled and will be released in Ottawa later.

BUMPER CROP

Bureau of statistics figures showed that on Aug. 9, Canada had about 160,000,000 bushels of wheat still in storage—and this did not take into consideration the possibility of a record

Lessard, federal deputy transport minister, as he returned today from annual leave.

He conferred with Transport Minister Chevrier and said that further action on the problem will be taken by a special committee next week.

In Regina, the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool said yesterday that rail and lake freight facilities will be entirely inadequate to handle the movement of grain this fall.

Mr. Lessard said the committee likely will consider two possibilities as means to ease the shortage:

1. Diversion of shipping from coal and iron on the Great Lakes.

2. Appointment of a transport controller to order lake tonnage and rail movement wherever needed. However, such an appointment would be for the cabinet to decided.

New Deal for Koreans

SEOUL, Korea, Aug. 21 (CP)—A "new deal" is coming up for the South Korean soldier. He's going to be properly trained.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commanding the United States Eighth army in Korea, has revised and extended the scope of the South Korean training program.

The program will be supervised by the United States army.

Van Fleet said the South Korean has what it takes to be a "really superb" soldier, with proper training and leadership.

"I am amazed every time I visit them that they are as good as they are," he said.

The commander recalled that the 10 South Korean divisions in the line usually were faced by double that strength of North Koreans thickened up by Chinese Communists.

Oddities

CALGARY, Aug. 21 (CP)—An Indian was fined $30 and costs in police court today.

The charge: Drunkenness.

The Indian's name: Cyril Drunkenchief.

TORONTO, Aug. 21 (CP)—The Toronto Transportation Commission has decided to run its Yonge Street cars on Yonge Street.

This is news to Torontonians, accustomed for months to seeing trams bearing the Yonge label in such alien surroundings as Bay, York, Victoria, Church and Dundas streets, while the T.T.C. burrowed industriously under downtown sections of the city's main thoroughfare to construct its subway.

Last night the commission announced that as a special favor to Canadian National Exhibition visitors, for two weeks at least a tram-rider boarding a Yonge car will know where he's going.

Will Consider Britons Enemies

CAIRO, Aug. 21 (AP)—An influential Egyptian newspaper said today Egypt will bear no responsibility for lives of British troops in the Suez Canal area after this country cancels the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian treaty. Such troops, said the newspaper, Al Ahram, will be considered "enemy troops unlawfully residing in the Canal area." The treaty gives Britain the right to station troops in the Canal area, now Britain's major Middle East base.

STOCKHOLM (CP)—Dry cold weather in the spring led to forecasts of small crops in Sweden this year, but surveys now show yields should be about average. Considerable improvement has been shown and harvesting began at the end of July.

Will Russia Not Attend?

THE Communist radio at Peiping came out yesterday with an opening blast against the coming Japanese peace treaty meeting at San Francisco. Any separate peace with the United Nations that did not include Russia and Red China would be a declaration of war by Japan against those two nations, Peiping argued in messages beamed to Japan. The usual flamboyant language, with epithets, repeated the argument endlessly and for propaganda reasons. But, to take this as it stands, is Russia about to absent itself from the San Francisco treaty meeting? The world has not yet been so informed. Red China, of course, is in a little different position, and the tirade against anti-Communist Chinese was perhaps to have been expected.

More important that the wording of the propaganda, however, are the probable reasons for it. There would seem to be three. To barrack the San Francisco treaty meeting to the detriment of the United Nations; to disunite the Japanese people who are for the moment following a western lead; and to discount in advance whatever moral and political effect such a treaty agreement might have throughout Asia. Seen so, Red China in all likelihood is taking its orders directly from the Kremlin; with callous and complete disregard of the Chinese people as such. Of the two Chinas, Red China was not the force that fought the Japanese; any more than Russia's last-minute entry into that conflict was of any account whatever in settling the issue. The results, so visible in Korea today, place both those efforts at their true value.

Since no Communist argument, as no Communist land, can be weighed by itself without regard to the rest of the piece, Radio Peiping is no doubt parroting what it has been given to say by Red China's Russian overlords. By indirection, the West may feel flattered that the San Francisco treaty meeting appears already to have been written off as a Communist reversal in world politics. That does not dull the edge of the Peiping propaganda, which should be watched and countered effectively in the Far East.

Waiting on Ottawa

NOT long ago the federal government put out a booklet on civil defense. It was a good booklet as such things go and as it ought to have been. At least a year went into its preparation. Having done this, however, it looks as though the national planning staff has relaxed, perhaps exhausted after so much brain fag.

Local civil defense officials are complaining that their work is held up because Ottawa has not yet authorized the compensation that will be needed for fire and police volunteer workers injured either in training or in actual emergency. Until this is settled recruits cannot be enrolled. Nor is there any word of the air raid sirens requested long ago, apart from a token allotment of six.

Ottawa's grudging approach to these matters recalls the pinch-penny philosophy during the war which resulted in gas masks being stored here in warehouses instead of being in the hands of individual citizens. The later very properly objected to having to pay twice for this item of national defense which it was financing already through taxes. Incidentally, how about gas masks this time?

Such things as compensation payments and sirens are fundamental to the whole plan of civil defense and should have been set out clearly long since. That provincial cabinet ministers have to plead with Federal authorities to get a move on is an indication that not much more than the publication of the aforesaid booklet has been arranged. There can be little hope of generating the required enthusiasm among potential civil defense workers in this area so long as a lackadaisical attitude dominates the centre of direction in Ottawa. And that, unfortunately, seems obvious.

"Sticks and Stones...."

THERE is an old maxim about name-calling which is as true of today as that in the time it was first uttered: "Sticks and stones may break my bones, but names can never hurt me." That was about the first thing taught to children when they went out to play in the company of others. It would be a much more gracious world if more of them had remembered it in their maturity. Not much, if anything, is to be added to genuine work of the world by this habit of crying down the merits and efforts of others. Quite often it is the outcome of temper, and more times than not it is wholly unfounded in both intent and scope.

The present age seems far too much given to name-calling without regard to the natural consequences. These are many and widespread, starting with ill will. No individual can acquire a reputation for bigotry, intolerance and folly more quickly than by the sedulous practice of abuse and calumny. Some allowance used to be made for the political canard in times gone by, but those times have gone by and the use of misrepresentation today in any form is followed swiftly by public condemnation.

In the last analysis all men travel the same brief road, and he does well who tends to his own affairs and keeps the record clean. The innate dignity of man is easily shattered, but far more difficult to restore once broken.

OAK BAY WATERFRONT

Sir,—We were interested in the article re the small beach off Satellite St. If Mrs. Gerrard-Mason's statement has erred, which we doubt, it is no more erroneous than that of council, which states there "never was access to the beach."

There certainly was access, before the apartment was built. Though the beach is small, it was used by people who wished to enjoy the beauty of the surroundings without the litter by vandals who desecrate the larger beaches with their leftovers of rubbish and broken glass.

Shouldn't this matter be looked into further, say by the Dominion government?

ETHEL HUMPHRIES,

THE SLOWPOKE DRIVER

Sir,—It must be with great satisfaction that the average motorist learns the irritating and dangerous slowpoke is to be curbed. The slowpoke driver with an unpleasant and discourteous attitude can sit and see car after car slow up behind him, while he, the slowpoke, with nothing to do but set the snailpace, lords it over his fellow-traveler, who has the same right to the road as he. Smug and complacent, he is completely indifferent to the man on his way to work, to the doctor who has a call to a sick bed or hospital, to the man of his way to an appointment, to the businessman with fixed hours.

The selfish pace-setter knows that sooner or later one or more of these working citizens can or will not stand the strain and will try to make his appointment, but the lord and master ahead does not give an inch. If the fool behind him wants to take the risk of getting killed, that is his affair. Maybe it is, but just the same the smug-faced, discourteous pace-setter is the provoker and indirect instigator of the accident; he is obstructing the road for a man with legitimate business.

A high percentage of accidents can be laid at the obstructor's door. It is high time he was put in his place. It is not good to let accidents pile up while the slow process of building better and wider roads is in the future and with the wider roads there is no guarantee that the mentality of Mr. Slowpoke will have changed. He will still be a menace. Eliminate the road-blocker and automatically the speeder who wants to gain lost time is also eliminated. The traffic would flow more smoothly and accidents would diminish.

Our roads are not made for sightseeing while driving nor for the boy who one minute drives with an arm around his girl oblivious to the traffic behind him, and the next proudly shows how fast his car can go. Nor are the roads made for old people driving as if they still lived in the horse and buggy age.

None of us will suffer unduly if the roadhog is taught to keep his place. Get the speeder by all means as he is a menace, too, but so is the roadhog—he is the "front" of the accidents behind—they are his accidents, too.

The implied slur on our police and authorities in general in one of your correspondent's letters is typical of the type of people who resent any curb on "their special rights" to be a nuisance to their fellowman. We could do with less law and less police if we had less of that sort of mentality.

ELECTION PLEDGES

Sir,—I am so glad to see some of the behind the scenes goings-on in Victoria being brought out in the open.

Thirty-three years ago when I acted as a scrutineer at one of the elections, I saw things that I could not prove, but which I did not like. Evidently that sort of thing has increased and become business ethics.

No wonder the average person looks for all they can get by chiseling; we hear so many stories of what is being done by those that are supposed to set an example. It has been in the past a person's conscience kept them on the straight and narrow, but not today. I know there are still lots of good, honest folk, but unfortunately we do not hear much about them.

It is not surprising the people cannot become enthused over election promises. It very often seems as though all the little dictators have forgotten they are really public servants.

HALLOWE'EN DAMAGE

Sir,—It is a great sin to roll a barrel down the Fraser River for a good purpose. On the other hand it is great fun to wreck and destroy people's property on Hallowe'en. Where is your law, order, and justice and the boasted British fair play? This vandalism goes on year after year while the authorities wink their eyes at it. Everyone who has property damaged ought to start civil action against the ones who are responsible for law and order.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

THE Giles cartoon immediately above this column needs no explanation. As you can see, while the village fans are in an ecstasy of polite enjoyment the visiting American top-sergeants are infinitely bored. Obviously they find cricket deadfully dull.

In sport, if I may rewrite an ancient maxim, what is one supporter's beefsteak is another one's horsemeat.

The position would be reversed if the curate and his friends were watching a baseball game; they in turn would probably find it slow.

Both games are slow by comparison, say, with ice hockey, box lacrosse or soccer. Each of these games is much easier for the stranger to watch, for they take less understanding and are similar in basic essentials.

* * *

There is the goal, and the object is to put the puck or ball into the net. This soon becomes clear to anyone the first time he watches either game. Each is fast enough in action to catch his interest and he can ignore the subtleties while appreciating the passing, tackling and shooting common to all these three sports.

With baseball and cricket, however, you must know something of the techniques of the game, otherwise the strategy behind much of the play will leave you cold. As a stranger you might see nothing to get excited about while all the time a tense duel of wits is being fought between rival captains or managers.

The Giles cartoon illustrates how insular the sports supporter can be, however. He invariably condemns the game or games he does not follow, through ignorance deeming them of no account. The criterion is, of course, that no game would be played at all if it were not worth its salt. Nor is it a safe bet to dismiss any game with disdain.

North America in large part is apt to sneer at cricket, for instance, as being a sissy sort of sport. This piece isn't a defense of cricket, which needs no backing from your truly, but since Giles introduced the topic this morning and an M.C.C. team will be playing here on Sunday next, a further word on England's national pastime won't be amiss.

* * *

Cricket is not all played to the muted handclasp of decorous spectators. True enough no one swings his bat as though it were a lacrosse stick, but when such as Lancashire and Yorkshire meet the struggle is as dour and relentless as it is when the Yankees and the Dodgers clash in the baseball world series.

Test cricket is even more severe in spirit. Australians are no pantywaists and cricket is a passion with them, to be played with the will-to-win that is typical of North American sports. Nor do Test spectators sit too well-bred to open their mouths. Far from it, as the Larwood-Bradman duels of prewar games made amply clear.

None of this is to suggest that when the M.C.C. eleven takes the field at Beacon Hill Park on Sunday the air is going to be charged with electricity. The opposite will be true, for the visitors are on a good will tour and there will be more handclapping than barracking.

In point of fact the atmosphere of the Giles cartoon might easily be reproduced, since hosts are invariably polite to their guests, but it would be the same, surely, if the New York Yankees came to Royal Athletic Park. No Victoria fan would be so impolite as to heave a pop bottle at Joe DiMaggio.

A baseball or hockey supporter, then, who knows not cricket, might feel like Giles' American top-sergeants as the M.C.C. knock up a couple of hundred runs, but nevertheless it won't hurt him a bit to go to the game. It is always worthwhile for any sports enthusiast to take an afternoon off to watch the other fellow's sport.

Quite possibly, too, he might learn something.

The Lord Mayor's Esquires

By KATHLEEN COURLANDER

LONDON. — The Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress of London, Sir Denys and Lady Lowson, who are officially visiting Commonwealth countries and the United States, are accompanied by the Sword-Bearer, Mr. W. T. Boston. He is in charge of the Sword of State.

(They are expected to arrive in Victoria on August 30.)

Mr. Boston is also First Esquire to the Lord Mayor who has two other Esquires — the Common Cryer who is also Serjeant-at-Arms, and the City Marshal.

On official occasions, Mr. Boston carries the Sword of State with the point upwards before the Lord Mayor as a symbol of the latter's authority. He bears it with its point downwards only in the presence of the King or a High Court Judge. The Sword-Bearer wears a black gown and his headgear is distinctive—a high round hat of sable lined with silk. Although it has changed its shape such a hat has been worn for centuries. In 1546 the then Lord Mayor presented the City with a "very goodly royale hatte" for the Sword-Bearer. In those days the officer exchanged the fur hat for a silk or velvet one in the summer but this fashion has lapsed.

In addition to carrying the Sword he has other duties; for example, he warns the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen and members of the Common Council to attend courts and meetings. When a Lord Mayor is installed the Sword-Bearer is a prominent figure at the ceremony. He has to ensure that the Lord Mayor has his proper place assigned to him at functions "without the City".

Two hundred years ago the Sword-Bearer's chief duty was to advise the Lord Mayor on all questions of etiquette, to tell him what robes to wear and which mace should be carried. With two men known as the "Yeomen of the Waterside", he assisted the Chief Citizen to dress. He presided at the head of his own table in the Lord Mayor's household. The position was a lucrative and much coveted one; today it carries a salary of £950 a year.

The Second Esquire is the Common Cryer and Serjeant-at-Arms who acts as macebearer. In the 14th century he received a salary of 60 shillings a year in addition to his robe and certain fees including one of 12 pence for every cry he made in the City. He also had a horse "for the honour of the City". Today his salary is £800 a year.

* * *

Wearing his traditional dark robe with a lace jabot and white gloves, he carries the mace before the Lord Mayor. The mace, like the sword, symbolises the Lord Mayor's authority and was evolved from a pike-head, an ancient weapon of war. The mace generally used dates from the 18th century; it is of silver-gilt, weighs 304 ounces and is five feet three inches long. It is chased with fleur-de-lys, the thistle and the harp, the Royal Arms and the City Arms. Its crown is surmounted by an orb and cross.

But at Coronations and when the Lord Mayor is installed, the Common Cryer uses the Crystal Mace, one of the City's greatest treasures. Only one foot six inches long, it has shafts and knobs of crystal, mounted in gold. Experts believe that the shaft is Anglo-Saxon workmanship; the golden head is jewelled.

The Third Esquire is the City Marshal, an office dating from the 16th century. In the days when the Lord Mayor rode a horse, it was the City Marshal's duty to keep the streets free from pedestrians. With modern traffic regulations his duties were curtailed. The City Marshal still rides a horse and in processions wears a scarlet coat, handsomely braided with gold lace. On less notable occasions he wears a blue uniform with gold braid and red-tipped cuffs. His helmet has a cascade of plumes.

One of the most picturesque officers who surround the Lord Mayor is the Chamberlain, whose duties were mentioned in the 13th century. He has the custody of the City's Cash and of the City Seal. At the installation of a Lord Mayor he ceremoniously hands him a tattered, empty purse. This purse which it is believed was a gift from the Tudor Queen Elizabeth to the City, is being exhibited with other civic treasures at the Guildhall in honour of the Festival of Britain.

Aerial Photography

WASHINGTON, D.C. — How good can aerial photography get? To say that "the sky's the limit" is to underestimate the new tricks possible with cloud-piercing rockets and all the new gadgetry and techniques of this still young science.

Cameras built in rockets, soaring 60 and 70 miles up and moving more than 2,500 miles an hour, have made clear pictures covering most of the western United States and reaching deep into Mexico, observes the National Geographic Society.

Skilled photographers in planes, steadily go higher and faster, by night or by day, to turn out farther-ranging and more accurate and detailed shots.

Hurtled through the air at 500 miles an hour, cameras borne by low-flying jet planes can now produce scenes so sharp that in one, it was reported, the ace could be discerned in the hand of a man playing cards on the ground.

To make such feats possible photographic equipment has kept pace with the spectacular aircraft that carry it. Among the numerous improvements and developments in the field are huge and intricate cameras with multiple mounts, rotating lenses, continuously unrolling film, and automatic temperature and pressure regulators.

View-finders operating like bombsights, and automatic indicators keep the photo-pilot informed concerning his exact position with regard to the ground. For night photography, flash bombs and flares have 50 million to one billion candlepower intensity, and mechanical devices synchronize the action of the camera shutter with the ignition of the flashes.

The demands of military intelligence have given impetus to the development of aerial photography. Meanwhile, air photography's peacetime services—national, civic, scientific, and commercial—have been multiplied and extended. Air surveys are valuable, to list a few outstanding uses, in erosion control; in the discovery and preservation of natural resources; in efficient utilization of farmlands; in directing city traffic; in archæological exploration; in charting the course of an eclipse; in giving information on undersea formations for harbor works, or in location of oil wealth.

The police-inspector was aware that the village innkeeper was "making a book." Being too well known himself to lay the offender by the heels, he sent for two detectives from a neighboring town and explained to them.

The detectives visited the inn, and, after calling for drinks, inquired the odds for a certain race and were told five to one bar three.

"Now," they thought gleefully, "we have him."

"What three do you bar?" was the next inquiry.

The innkeeper smiled pleasantly as he answered. "You two and the inspector."

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

LONDON. — A small screw in the hinge of my eye glasses fell out, and I took the injured specs into the nearest oculist's in London. The glasses had been bought in Paris four years ago; and it seems they use a different screw in France from the one used in Britain. "But I'll see what can be done," said the Londoner behind the counter.

I saw him sorting through several drawers; he disappeared for a while and came back with a small box through which he and another man he consulted searched with the greatest concentration. No luck. My man went away again, and after several minutes came back with triumphant expression.

"I found one that did the trick," he announced, handing me back my repaired glasses.

"How much?" I enquired, producing the handful of assorted British shekels that endanger our flimsy Canadian pockets.

"No charge," said the clerk.

"Oh, but look here . . ." I expostulated.

The clerk smiled, and reached under the counter. He produced a box with a coin slit in it. On the box was a notice signed by a well-known London hospital, and above it a text reading:

"We make no charge for small adjustments, but contributions to the hospital are gratefully accepted."

On the counter of the newsstand in my hotel is another metal box with a coin slot. Projecting from the box is a small squirter containing lighter fluid to fill your lighter. The penny or two you drop in are for the R.A.F. Benevolent Fund. By such little unobtrusive generosities do these Old Country people remind one another of an internal organ known as the heart.

Looking Back

Through Colonist Files

25 YEARS AGO — The old residence on the southwest corner of Government and Superior Streets is being demolished to make way for the proposed three-story concrete building to house the government's printery.

50 YEARS AGO—The city council will meet the owners and tenants of the properties on Douglas Street between Pandora and Yates for the purpose of discussing the proposal to bring the sidewalk and buildings to the proper level. Unless this is done the road cannot be graded.

85 YEARS AGO — News despatches were received yesterday afternoon dated London the previous evening. By this it is evident that the Gulf of St. Lawrence cable has been put in working order.

As the world studied the Peiping declaration that signing of a peace treaty by Japan without including Russia and Communist China would constitute a declaration of war against those countries, delegates were already heading for San Francisco, where the treaty talks will open Sept. 4.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, head of the large Russian delegation, landed at Orly airport at Paris, on his way to San Francisco.

A report from Prague said Czechoslovakia has decided to follow Russia's lead and send a delegation.

In Washington, Gen. Douglas MacArthur turned down a U.S. government invitation to address the conference. MacArthur said he didn't want even to appear to be representing the Truman administration.

But Missouri Republican Rep. O. K. Armstrong said in Washington he was so eager to attend the talks, he would go at his own expense and as a private citizen, just so he can heckle the Reds. He said he would "talk for a week if the Russians start trouble."

Communists Preach Abolition of Exploitation, But Soldiers, Farmers, Laborers Under Iron Yoke

deliberately been in the opposite direction?

I was born on a 750-acre farm that produced a rich store of rice, beans and grains. We tended 1,000 sheep, 30 dairy cattle and owned 10 horses. We lived in a comfortable eight-room house near Stalinabad.

By 1933 the 750 acres had become one acre—each peasant family was left with a garden plot—and my father, mother, brother, two sisters and I were now living in one room of our former home.

(This eventually forced my father into the hills to fight, leading to his arrest and break-up of the family, with three of them sent to slave labor camps.)

We had been "collectivized" by the state.

In theory, collective farms (kolkhozi) are voluntary, self-controlled organizations of former landowners who have pooled their holdings.

In practice, kolkhozi—and 85 per cent of Russia's arable land is in the kolkhoz system—was the result of the attempted total liquidation of the peasant class by the Communists.

Our land, animals, tools, homes, furniture and even clothes were taken from us.

But in theory, the group holdings were divisible, and while the theory existed we all hoped that some day we would regain our lands.

Today, even that hope is disappearing. The new trend is to form super-kolkhozes which are really labor colonies where farmers have no title to the land. No more than factory workers have in a state-owned textile mill. In fact, this super-collectivization has as its goal the freeing of more farm workers for use in industry.

PEASANTRY ABOLISHED

This was the trend when I was last in Soviet Russia, earlier this year. Some farms were being operated as factories, and the peasantry, as a class, was being completely and finally abolished.

So far as I know, only one concession was made. The Communists gave up, for the time being, an accompanying plan to crowd all the peasant population into large "farm cities."

The result, it should be noted, of all Soviet attempts to intimidate the peasantry have always been sad. Sad for the peasants and for the Russian economy.

Last year Soviet agriculture failed to meet the 1950 goals in every case except one. And after three decades of communization the nation's per capita grain output still is the same as it was under the czars.

WAS SOLDIER

I was a soldier from 1938 to 1947. I fought in the "great fatherland war," as it is called in Soviet Russia, and several months ago I re-enlisted.

Life in the Soviet army is tough, but it is heaven compared to living as a civilian.

Discipline is brutal, pay is poor (about 30 cents a day for a private), political commissars and lecturers turn the stomach of even the most faithful soldier, and furloughs practically never come.

But food is not bad compared with what you get as a civilian. Hours are regular and you have a decent pair of boots on your feet.

The Russian youth, at 15, begins his military training in schools long before he is drafted. In addition, three main semi-military groups in Russia exist—the Dosarm (army), Dosflot (navy) and Dosav (aviation). These supply parachute training, rifle ranges, shipboard exercises, artillery weapons and the whole arsenal of warfare to youth.

They are also open to factory workers and, in fact, "volunteers" from every walk of life.

HIGH PRIORITY

Militarism in Russia takes high priority. The army officer holds a social rank above everyone except the party commissar, and he his hand-picked and trained from the age of eight in a Sovorov school. He is never seen smoking the same brand of cigarettes as an enlisted man.

But morale in the Soviet army is good, simply because as bad as conditions are, they are better than at home. Like the civilian, the soldier doesn't want war. But these soldiers will fight if war comes.

I noticed one small change in training tactics between 1941 and 1951.

Ten years ago the dummies we tore into during bayonet drill were dressed in German uniforms. Now they are bundled in forest green fatigues with big patch pockets.

(Tomorrow: The story of how his house of worship was turned into a never-ending war on religion in Russia is told by Adlie Kasha.)

Amputate Arm Of Baby Boy

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (CP).—Doctors tonight amputated the mangled right arm of David Patterson, the 20-months-old boy who was run over yesterday by a 12,500-ton diesel locomotive.

Scurrah Worried

Traveling Show's Games Questioned by Alderman

Alleged playing of crown and anchor and dice games at Royal Canadian Shows, scheduled to appear at Victoria West Park next month, is worrying Ald. Percy Scurrah.

At a public works committee meeting yesterday, he asked:

"I'd like to know from Mr. Wismer why they are allowed to run crown and anchor and dice games?"

Ald. Scurrah said he had visited the show recently at Chilliwack.

The committee refused the show permission to use the large lot behind Memorial Arena. The concern will have to use Victoria West Park September 17 to 22 as originally planned.

The action was taken after the committee heard complaints from residents in the vicinity of the Quadra Street location.

The committee received two tenders for 6,100 feet of eight-inch and 3,000 feet of six-inch cast iron water pipe.

Evans, Coleman and Johnson Bros. Ltd., Victoria, tendered a bid (not firm) of $31,741 and N. C. Sherman Ltd., Vancouver, a firm bid of $32,668.

The Victoria company's bid likely will be accepted if it agrees that any price increases not exceed five per cent. Delivery date also must be guaranteed.

Residents in the vicinity of Queens Avenue and Spring Road complained about the condition of 14 city-owned lots on which the city is dumping road material. The city engineer agreed the residents have a legitimate complaint and promised to clean up the area.

Chairman Ald. Dr. J. D. Hunter complained that residents are dumping garden refuse in the vicinity of the Clover Point comminutor. The committee decided to erect warning signs.

"If that doesn't work we will have to take sterner action," said the alderman.

Arrival of Nootka Quiet at Halifax

HALIFAX, Aug. 21 (CP) — The Canadian destroyer Nootka arrived home from Korea today. The blue and white flag of the United Nations rippled from her masthead and she looked trim and unscarred as she steamed toward a quiet welcome at the navy dockyard.

The tribal destroyer, under command of Cmdr. A. B. Fraser-Harris of Halifax, logged more than 62,000 miles and captured seven enemy junks on her nine-month tour of duty.

V.M.D.'s Expanding Shipbuilding Program To See Offices Moved, Docking Changed

MARINE AND TRAVEL NEWS

By R. WORMALD

Expansion of operations in Victoria Machinery Depot's naval shipbuilding program will result shortly in two changes on the city's waterfront.

This week-end the entire office [illegible] will be moved from the Bay Street plant of the firm to the Outer Wharf plant.

Because all Bay Street plant facilities will be required for the Royal Canadian Navy shipbuilding program, the Outer Wharf Pier No. 2 will no longer be available for docking of the Canadian-Australasian Line's Mv. Aorangi.

In future arrivals the Aorangi will dock at the North A Pier of the C.N.R.-operated Ogden Point Docks.

Stanley Arvidson, agent at Ogden Point docks, said yesterday all facilities for handling passengers are still intact at the dockside. There are rest rooms and quarters for customs and immigration officials.

Meanwhile, H. S. Hammill, V.M.D. general manager, reports a painting and clean-up program is nearly complete at the firm's Outer Wharf office building. By early next week shipyard headquarters will have been completely transferred.

Work is already well under way on a gate vessel at the Outer Wharf plant. The hull of one of two minesweepers is being constructed at the Bay Street plant. Finish work on both Sweepers will be done at the Outer Wharf.

V.M.D. will also build a destroyer escort at the Outer Wharf plant.

Approximately 600 persons are on the shipyard payroll.

CRUSADER IN TODAY

The destroyer Crusader will dock at H.M.C. Dockyard at 9 a.m. today completing a long training cruise which took her to Pearl Harbor. She spent four days there.

TO TOUR DOCKYARD

Forty girl Sea Rangers, about 25 of them from Toronto and the remainder of this city, will be conducted on a tour through H.M.C. Dockyard and the cruiser Ontario today.

The Toronto Sea Rangers have been on a holiday tour and are stopping off here to visit with fellow members of this city.

With the rangers on their tour will be Miss Dorothy Beveridge, Toronto group captain and Miss L. Warren, head of the Victoria Sea Rangers.

SCORES MAJOR GAIN

An unheralded major gain was won by Seafarers' International Union (T.L.C.-A.F.L.) when it signed a contract for 800 coast seamen with Canadian Pacific, Canadian National and Union Steamship Lines.

The rail lines agreed to dues check-off for the S.I.U. crew members.

The agreement is reported to mark the first time that a Canadian railway company has granted any of its unions such a concession.

WARNING TO MARINERS

Mariners are advised that two scow loads of rock are reported broken away from construction work under way on the Steveston north jetty, Fraser River. One of the loaded scows is on the sandheads out of the channel and the other is in the channel off Garry Point. These will be removed as soon as possible, says D.O.T. agent, T. E. Morrison, and in the meantime mariners are asked to use caution when navigating in the area.

It is also reported that White Rock red steel conical buoy off Miami Islet, north of Thetis Island, has been replaced in position.

A fleet of approximately 40 Canadian seiners and an equal number of American vessels is now harvesting fine catches of salmon at approaches to the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

Local fisheries officials say the pink salmon run is fairly good now and promises to improve within the near future. Canadian boats take their catches to Fraser River canneries, while the American craft unload at Puget Sound ports.

The sockeye run is now only fair after several weeks of almost record catches.

Gordon Barrie, local inspector for the Federal Fisheries Department for the past six years, will leave Victoria today to take up a temporary appointment with the department at Tofino on the Vancouver Island west coast.

He will leave this port aboard the fisheries protection vessel Howay, commanded by Capt. C. W. Earnshaw.

Succeeding Mr. Barrie here on a temporary basis is Arthur Touchings, who formerly served with the department at Port Alberni.

Follow Leader Is Policy In U.S. Navy Training

"Follow the leader"—is the policy aboard three United States destroyer escorts which docked at Esquimalt yesterday.

Reservists in training aboard the U.S.S. Grady, U.S.S. Nickel and U.S.S. Johnson are each assigned a "running mate" of the same rate as themselves. Running mates are all regular service men, and they show part-time [illegible] aboard the ships.

PRODUCING GOOD RESULTS

The scheme, adopted this year, is producing good results, a naval spokesman said.

The three ships are making a three-day courtesy visit here in the course of a rserve training cruise. Aboard each ship are 60 naval reservists, with Coast Guard Reservists and Sea Scouts.

In command of the three ships is Cmdr. Hamilton B. Joslin. Lieut.-Cmdr. H. A. Guthrie, U.S.N., commands the Grady; Lieut.-Cmdr. R. L. Ward, U.S.N., the Nickel, and Lieut. A. A. Mazur, U.S.N., the Johnson.

The ships left Treasure Island, San Francisco, Saturday, and docked here yesterday after bucking a near-gale most of the way.

There were some queasy stomachs aboard the ships, especially among first-voyage men.

"We were mightily glad to turn the corner," a naval spokesman said.

No maneouvres will be carried out in waters near Victoria.

FIRE AT MATTRESS PLANT

Damage was slight and most of the fire equipment returned minutes after the alarm was sent in.

Market Prices Plummet In Final-Hour Downturn

By AP and CP

An abrupt downturn in the final hour of trading yesterday in the stock market put prices sharply lower.

When the selling hit, the market was a bit under its best, and when the final bell sounded prices were at the bottom.

Trading was orderly throughout, and the slide never came near runaway proportions. Under the greatest pressure, however, were rails, steels, utilities, motors, and the electronics group.

There were some outstanding gainers with air lines doing well.

There were 1,132 individual issues traded, the greatest in nearly three weeks, as compared with 1095 issues Monday. There were 316 issues advancing and 551 declining, the latter the largest total since July 16.

During the final hour fall, a little better than 32 per cent of the volume of 1,400,000 shares was tabulated.

LITTLE TREND

At Toronto, prices showed little trend toward the close on the stock market. Volume for the session was about 1,400,000 shares.

Steels showed the best gains throughout the day as they came back strongly after Monday's mixed dealings. Utilities continued strong.

Senior golds weakened.

Trading was off slightly from the moderate forenoon pace.

A few leaders took major gains but most of the changes were fractional.

Papers suffered most in the minor downslide, although industrials, beverages and steels recorded fractional losses.

Senior oils held plus and minus signs in balance, while banks and carriers remained steady. Utilities and senior metals clung to early firmness.

Mines mixed advances and declines while western oils firmed slightly in improved trading.

TRADING ACTIVE

In Vancouver, trading was active on the stock exchange with oils and base metals in demand.

At Winnipeg, a renewal of aggressive demand and advances on United States markets contributed to a steady tone in grain prices on the grain exchange.

Shippers and exporters were active buyers in both oats and barley. The export demand came in response to reports of export business in these commodities.

Export loadings of Canadian wheat included 1,120,000 bushels to the United Kingdom, 380,000 to South Africa, 370,000 to Italy, 360,000 to Japan, and 200,000 to Norway.

RECORD NUMBER

REGINA, Aug. 21 (CP).—One new exploratory oil well was started in Saskatchewan last week, bringing the number being drilled to a record 20.

BETTER TONE

MONTREAL, Aug. 21 (CP).—A better tone was apparent on the Montreal bond market today, although there were few changes in prices. B.A. Oil convertibles were slightly firmer.

Foreign Exchange

MONTREAL, Aug. 21 (CP).—The American dollar today closed at 5 21/32 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, up 1/32 from Monday's close. That is, it took $1.05 21/32 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.95 13/16, up 1/16 from Monday.

U.S. Commission Urges Crackdown by Ontario On Securities Swindlers Defrauding Americans

TORONTO, Aug. 21 (CP).—The United States Securities and Exchange Commission pressed Ontario today to crack down on "stockateers."

The S.E.C., in an 8,000-word letter read to the resumed sessions of the legislature crime committee, presented a formal request that the committee seek to amend the extradition laws to compel Canadian "securities swindlers" to answer fraud charges in U.S. courts.

The S.E.C. letter said: "We are convinced that revision of the extradition treaty is necessary."

The committee was appointed last March by Premier Frost to investigate administration of justice in the province. Attorney-General Porter was named chairman.

FEDERAL MATTER

Extradition is a federal matter, Mr. Porter, at earlier sessions of the committee, said the basis for extradition would need to be closely defined to ensure that an Ontario resident would not be called to stand trial in a state court for something trivial.

Signed by Richard B. McEntire, S.E.C. commissioner, the letter came in lieu of an appearance before the Ontario committee of S.E.C. representatives and was devoted mainly to an outline of the S.E.C.'s case against Ontario stock salesmen who have fleeced Americans.

The letter said that the U.S. postmaster-general, between July, 1949, and August, 1951, issued 70 fraud orders against Toronto securities dealers.

The letter cited examples of how some persons, protected from U.S. prosecution by existing extradition laws, have committed stock swindles by mail and by telephone in the United States.

OUTLINES PROCEDURE

The letter outlined in some detail the manner in which these investment swindlers operated:

"Our files disclose cases in which investors are falsely told of 'oil strikes,' or are giving glowing 'reports' of mining engineers . . . properties which are nothing but staked-out claims are said to be producing ore in commercial quantities; oil wells which could never produce profitably are described as commercial producers."

Such evidence against those Toronto stock dealers had been put before U.S. grand juries with the result that the dealers were indicted.

"Our inability to apprehend the defendants has made return of the indictments little more than a formal gesture," the letter added.

October Start For Pulp Plant

EDMONTON, Aug. 21 (CP).—Government officials said today they have been told that preliminary work is scheduled to start in October on a $5,000,000 ground-pulp plant at Yates, Alta., just east of Edson on the Canadian National Railways.

Several months ago, provincial authorities said an agreement had been signed with North Western Pulp and Power Ltd. The company was given a lease on extensive timber lands. In return, it agreed to build a plant, made an initial cash deposit of $10,000, and is to make a further deposit of $15,000 next May.

Agreement provides for work on the plant to start not later than next May, but it was said today that it will go ahead in October.

The company has organized a subsidiary, New Pacific Coal and Oils Ltd., to build the plant and run it.

London Market Still Inactive

LONDON, Aug. 21 (Reuters).—The stock exchange continued to lack incentive and today ended the trading period with only a few narrowly irregular changes in prices.

Nevertheless, there was a quiet firmness in British government funds with the market finding new sellers to meet small buying orders.

Leading industrials were mainly steady and with Imperial Tobaccos unchanged at 5 3-32. Textiles met some end-account leveling and were widely a few pence lower.

Similar sales brought dullness to German and Japanese bonds while a weak spot was Portuguese 3-per-cents first with a fall of five points at 85. This was attributed to the cessation of recent Portuguese buying. Oil shares were barely steady and with an undertone described as soft.

Selected gold shares moved higher with local and continental demand uncovering a market shortage of shares. Buying was based on hopes of a higher gold price.

Spirited Millmen Tie Semi-Finals; Defeat Aces, 4-3

Displaying the same fighting spirit which carried them into the playoffs, B.C. Forest Products defeated Butler's Aces 4-3 at Upper Central last night to knot the best-of-five semi-final series for the city senior "A" men's softball title at two games each.

Following the same course they took in league play when they dropped far behind at the beginning of the season, Forest Products fell two games behind in the playoffs. But last night's win, coupled with last Friday's 3-1 triumph, pulled them even.

Deciding game in the series will be played at Upper Central tomorrow night at 6.15.

The winners will meet Pitzer & Nex, league champions, who won their semi-final series over Chinese Students, the following night.

WASTE NO TIME

Forest Products wasted no time in making the scoresheet. Roy Logie started off the bottom of the initial inning with a single and Joe Travis walked. With two out Bud Ross slashed a single over shortstop to score Logie. Don Hendry then lined the ball down the third base line to score Travis and Ross, who had advanced a base on the attempt to get Logie at the plate.

They took a 4-0 lead in the next inning when Earl King and Tony Bishop walked and Travis singled. An error to shortstop Hal Yardley on George Brown's grounder scored King.

Millmen were not dangerous the rest of the way. They left six men on the bases in the remaining six innings and in the eighth worked a runner around to third. But they could get him no farther.

After a double-play killed off a rally in the second, Aces showed little fight until the fourth. Hal Yardley led off with a walk, stole second and scored on John Furmston's double through the mound. Furmston took third on a long fly and scored on Will Benn's single.

HOME RUN

Mickey Smith cut Forest Products' margin to one run when he lined the ball into the trees in left field for a home run in the seventh inning.

Making his fourth appearance of the playoffs, Bud Ross limited the Aces to seven hits, striking out three and walking four.

Ross is scheduled to pitch again tomorrow, and if Forest Products win, he will more than likely see action again on Friday.

Archie Sluggett started the Aces and pitched good ball after giving up three hits in the first inning. Furmston relieved him when Millmen threatened again in the eighth.

Jokers Edge Foul Bay 3-2 In Junior Tilt

Jokers took a 2-1 lead in the first quarter on goals by Harrison and Wilson. McMillan replied for the Bays. The second period was scoreless with Harrison making it 3-1 for the Jokers with the only goal in the third quarter. Bamford scored Foul Bay's second goal in the dying minutes of the final period.

In a preliminary juvenile "B" game Fairfield defeated Oak Bay 9-5. Steve Foster paced the winners with a four-goal effort. Longpre and Chummy Crabbe added two each for the winners, while Thorpe scored a singleton. Edgar, with two goals, and Peterson, Gosling and Bowles were the scorers for Oak Bay.

Mrs. Sullivan Gets $10,000 Through Fund

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (CP).—The widow of Jockey Terry Sullivan will receive approximately $10,000 through an administrator, it was announced today.

Sullivan died yesterday following injuries suffered Saturday when he was thrown from his mount at Exhibition Park tract.

He is survived by his 19-year-old widow and an eight-month-old daughter.

The fund, to be administered by Walter Geoghegan, mutuels' manager at Exhibition Park, will include a $2,500 life insurance policy, paid for by the Ascot Jockey Club; $1,000 from Sam W. Randall, operator of Exhibition Park; $1,000 from horsemen at the track, and between $500 and $1,000 from the B.C. Turf and Country Club.

And, from the annual sport of Kings Ball, approximately $4,500, spread over five years. An additional charge of 50 cents will be placed on each ticket to the ball for the next five years, the extra money to be paid to the widow.

Victorian Scores Victory in Chess

J. H. Lacey of Victoria scored a victory for the British Columbia team in an international chess match against a Washington State team at Blaine over the week-end. Lacey defeated T. Cannon of Mount Vernon.

The B.C. "B" players won over the Americans by a 17-9 count and the "A" players won 14 matches, lost 14 and tied two.

IT BEATS ME

By Jim Tang

It became undeniably evident last week that Lester Patrick intends to call it a career after 50 years in hockey sometime between now and the expiration of his three-year contract with the Memorial Arena Commission. Had he intended to stay on beyond that period he would not have lashed out at the commission for its handling of contract negotiations.

That Patrick should feel he had a justifiable complaint when he claimed a breach of faith has been established beyond reasonable doubt. There are his correspondence files and the corroborating evidence of ex-commissioners. The rebuttal Patrick's reports were "not complete and in some instances, incorrect" and that the present commission had never received news of any moral obligation do not stand up. There has been no mention of the instances where Patrick's story was not true and no effort has been made for a more complete report. The moral obligation was there in the minutes of a meeting of the old commission. Surely it was to be expected that new commissioners would read the minutes if they were not informed of previous negotiations by hold-over commissioners.

Probably much of the misunderstanding was caused by the commendable zeal of the commission in making the best possible deal but there is the hint that some of this zeal was caused by the fact that Patrick's Victoria hockey operation had been a huge success for two seasons and by an effort to make up in part for a salubrious first contract. In any event, it is too bad that it had to end acrimoniously.

Patrick holds an unchallenged position in hockey. Almost everywhere but in his home town he is recognized as "Mr. Hockey" and his opinions are respectfully listened to and solicited by hockey's top men. Much of hockey's success is directly attributable to his efforts but jealousy and envy move detractors to make detracting statements. This is especially true among certain elements in Victoria, who openly resent his success.

It is no crime to try and make the best possible deal. Patrick didn't survive 50 years in a tough amusement business without knowing what it's all about. He has put a lifetime into hockey and worked hard at his profession. It hasn't always been an easy road and when the summary is in many years from now, there will be few who won't agree that he had given as much to hockey as hockey has given him. If, after 50 years, he is able to have some of life's better things, he has earned them. Victorians should be proud to be able to call him their own. And I think most of us really are.

North Shore	16	16	0	328	353	32
Nanaimo	4	27	0	294	483	8

Final game, today: Nanaimo at Victoria.

The Intercity Lacrosse League playoff picture was settled at Vancouver last night when Vancouver Combines edged North Shore Indians, 10-8, before 2,000 fans to clinch third place.

The defeat left Indians with the unenviable task of meeting the league champion Victoria Shamrocks, who play the final game of the schedule against Nanaimo tonight, in one semi-final series, while Combines tackle New Westminster Commandos in the other. Victory for Indians would have given them third place and pitted them against Commandos, with Combines meeting Shamrocks.

Indian coach, Bill Dickinson, announced last night that Johnny McKay, now working in Alberni, may play against Shamrocks in the series opener at Memorial Arena on Saturday. The clubs move to Kerrisdale Arena for the second game of the best-of-five series Monday. Shamrocks hold a season edge of 5-3 over the Redskins, suffering all the losses at Vancouver.

OPEN AT ROYAL CITY

Combines and Commandos, who split eight games during the season, open their series at New Westminster tomorrow, moving to Kerrisdale for the second game Tuesday.

Both goalies, Jack Green of Combines and Stan Josephs for Indians, were superb last night as the clubs fought to avoid meeting Shamrocks in the semi-finals. Green stopped 27 shots and Josephs 25.

Indians grabbed an early 2-0 lead, settled for a 2-2 quarter-time tie and moved ahead, 4-3, in the second period before falling behind, 6-4, at the half. The Tribe made its last bid early in the third quarter when it tied the score at 6-6 but Combines regained control to take a 9-7 margin at the three-quarter mark and held it safe in the final period.

Brothers Elmer and Harry Buchanan passed Combines with four points each while Larry Crema topped Indians with three points.

Support Grows For Murphy In Title Bout

NEW YORK, Aug. 21—(AP)—Joey Maxim risks his light-heavyweight title for the first time tomorrow night against powerful Irish Bob Murphy. The odds are 5 to 7 the champion will become the sixth boxing king to lose his crown this year.

Rising support for the strong, hard-hitting challenger may boost the price favoring the California redhead to as much as 1 to 2 by the time their 15-round scrap gets under way in Madison Square Garden.

Although the bout shapes up as a natural with the boxer meeting the puncher, only about 10,000 fans are expected to pay to see the gladiators in the flesh.

One reason for the probable small gathering is that the fight will be broadcast and telecast. Another is the fanfare over Randy Turpin, British holder of the middleweight title who meets Sugar Ray Robinson in a return bout here Sept. 12.

GRID PRACTICE

Whitney's Canadian football team will hold a practice at Victoria West Park tonight at 7.30. All last year's players and any others interested are invited to attend.

Victoria bantam all-stars team which will play Nanaimo in a preliminary exhibition game at Memorial Arena tonight at 7 follows: Wooster, Hamilton, Jones, Robin, Mills, Kowalyk, Watson, Gillam, Roscamp, Johnson, Willis Parker Mair, Badminton McKee and Taylor.

Nanaimo Sons Out to Upset League Champs

Victoria Shamrocks play their final league game of the Inter-City Lacrosse League season tonight when they oppose Nanaimo Native Sons at Memorial Arena.

Although the game does not affect league standings, Sons would like nothing better than to upset the league champions. They almost accomplished the feat in the last meeting of the clubs at Nanaimo, leading until well into the final quarter.

The game will serve as a tune-up for the Shamrocks for the playoffs starting at Memorial Arena on Saturday. Coach Arnie Ferguson plans no line-up changes and will again use young John Newton as the extra man.

Norm Baker reports his injured wrist well enough to allow him to play but will sit out the game to prevent a recurrence of the injury. He will return to the line-up on Saturday.

A Victoria bantam all-star team will play Nanaimo bantams in a preliminary game at 7 p.m.

Shirley Fry, Doris Hart Capture Title

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 21 (AP).—Doris Hart and Shirley Fry became the United States women's doubles tennis champions while playing through a drizzle today.

But when the moisture rapidly developed into a steady rain, the all-Australian men's final involving Davis Cup aces Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor with Mervyn Rose and Don Candy was postponed until tomorrow.

Miss Hart and Miss Fry, runners-up here for the last two years, added the national crown to their doubles string that includes the Wimbledon and French championships, by breezing for a 6-4, 6-2 win over Mrs. Pat Todd and Nancy Chaffee.

Bombers Whip Argonauts 13-1 In Exhibition

WINNIPEG, Aug. 21 (CP).—Winnipeg Blue Bombers whipped a jinx Monday by walloping the Canadian champion Toronto Argonauts 13-1 in an exhibition football game before 9,600 fans.

It marked the first time in history that Winnipeg had beaten a Toronto club either in Grey Cup or exhibition play. It gave Bombers a small measure of revenge for the 13-0 whipping Argos gave them in the 1950 Grey Cup final over a sloppy Varsity Stadium last November.

Spearheaded by the accurate arm of quarterback Jack Jacobs, Bombers showed marked superiority through the air and gained at least an even break along the ground.

Bowling Meeting

Gibson's Bowladrome Commercial Tenpin Bowling League will hold a meeting at the alleys tomorrow at 7.30 p.m. Any teams wishing to enter the league this coming season may apply for entry forms at the meeting.

A's Gain Full Game By Beating Tigers As Chiefs Humbled

Tacoma	65	79	.451	16
Yakima	53	79	.433	20
Tri-City	53	76	.411	23

Victoria Athletics temporarily disposed of Tacoma's threat to take over fifth place and started crowding Wenatchee Chiefs for the last first-division berth in the W.I.L. last night with a 5-2 triumph over the Tigers at Royal Athletic Park.

The victory put the A's two games ahead of Tacoma and, coupled with Wenatchee's 7-5 trimming at Vancouver, left them only three games away from a spot in the post-season playdowns.

CRUCIAL GAMES

Tonight could decide Victoria's chances. The A's tangle with the Tigers in a series-ending doubleheader while the Chiefs meet the Caps twice at Vancouver. Double wins for Victoria and Vancouver would leave Wenatchee holding fourth place by a lone game and due to face the A's here in two games tomorrow and Friday and the Caps at Vancouver again on Saturday in a transferred game. It would also leave the Tigers, who move on to Vancouver tomorrow, well out of the play-off battle.

Bill Osborn and John Tierney will work in that order for the A's tonight with Hal Dodeward and Gary Clark, a pair of right-handers, due for the Tigers.

ADDED ATTRACTION

As an added attraction, the Bowery Boys will give a repeat performance of their trampoline act, which is well worth seeing. Activity is scheduled to start at 7.

The Tigers made it uncomfortably interesting last night. Jim Hedgecock, who received credit for his 13th win, protected a 3-0 first-inning lead until the sixth, when Vince DiMaggio powered a change-up pitch far out of the park with Butch Moran running on first.

After Ben Jeffey's double had restored Victoria's three-run lead in the seventh, the losers opened up in the ninth with Merv Dubbers' double following a walk to Jose Bache. Manager Bob Sturgeon, who had Bill Prior and Ben Lorino getting ready, called on the southpaw. Lorino came through in fine style without giving up a run, getting Don Lundberg on a pop fly, throwing out relief-pitcher Bob Schulte and striking out Sol Israel.

Back at first base, Hal Jackson put the A's ahead when he hit a two-run triple in the first and scored the third run as Lundberg threw into centrefield trying to get the stealing Roccon Cardinale. Bill Dunn, who continued his hitting splurge with a double and single in four trips, started the seventh-inning rally with his single.

Defensively, DiMaggio came up with the play of the game when he robbed Bill White in the seventh to prevent a big inning.

Pete Hernandez, who has done the A's nothing but harm all season, gave them a helping hand last night by holding Wenatchee to three hits to rack up his 15th win, 7-1.

BATTING PRACTICE

However, the win failed to gain ground for the Caps as Spokane had batting practice at the expense of three Tri-City pitchers and routed the Braves, 23-5. Edo Vanni and Jim Wert led the 22-hit attack with four hits each. Jim Brown and Ed Murphy each hit a home run and winning pitcher Dick Bishop contributed three safeties towards his 14th victory.

Salem set a new attendance record of 103,672 when 3,860 fans turned out to see the game with Yakima but the Bears spoiled the evening with a 7-3 triumph behind the steady pitching of manager Bill Brenner.

Bob Feller won his 20th game of the season for Cleveland Indians last night, dumping Washington Senators to their tenth straight defeat, a 6-0 shutout. The win preserved Cleveland's one-game margin over New York Yankees in the American League flag race.

Feller gave only six hits and held the upper hand all the way as he rejoined the select 20-game winners after an absence of three seasons.

It was the sixth time in 13 campaigns with the Indians that he had won 20 or more—a feat passed by only five other hurlers in American League history. They were Cy Young, Walter Johnson, Lefty Grove, Eddie Plank and Wes Ferrell.

Yogi Berra blasted his third homer in three games to start the Yankees off to an 11-4 triumph over Detroit — the Tigers' ninth loss in ten games.

Gene Woodling smashed in four more runs with two doubles and two singles and Johnny Mize accounted for another two with a home run as rookie Art Schallock hurled his first complete game.

St. Louis Browns, already mathematically eliminated, dealt the hopes of Boston Red Sox a blow when they trimmed the Bosox, 6-4, on Jim McDonald's three-hitter.

BOOST WIN STREAK

In the National League, New York Giants continued their stretch drive and boosted their winning streak to 10 straight by clipping Cincinnati Reds, 7-4. The victory left the Giants 7½ games behind Brooklyn Dodgers, whose game with St. Louis Cardinals was rained out with the Cards leading, 1-0, in the second inning.

Held to three hits in the first seven innings by knuckle-baller Willie Ramsdell, the Giants exploded for six runs in the eighth on homers by Eddie Stanky, Whitey Lockman and Wes Westrum. Bobby Adams, Connie Ryan and John Pramesa had hit homers earlier to give the Reds all their runs.

Sports Clubs of Russia Ordered to Mend Ways

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 21 (Reuters).—Russia is having its own sports scandals.

The all-powerful central committee of the Soviet Communist Party has ordered sports clubs throughout the Soviet Union to raise their standards.

The order follows accusations in the Moscow press of slackness, corruption and even immorality against many clubs in the outlying republics.

It seems that some clubs are making sports a pastime instead of a business of stern national interest. In some branches, the papers complain, athletes have been "too lazy to set records for the last eight years."

"Trud" says the Soviet Union has 32,000 football clubs with a total membership of 500,000, but it complains many players skimp their training. In far off Odessa, for example, many football players take time off from the factory to train, but fail to turn up at the field.

Footballers in Odessa and Minsk have been guilty of "disciplinary offences and immoral conduct."

HOPE FOR REWARDS

Some provincial papers report that factory managers promote athletes over the heads of other workers hoping they will remember this kindness and reward it if they become influential stars later.

The Moscow press puts the blame on the all-Russian sports committee, responsible for running physical training and athletics throughout the union.

Foreign gymnasts who have visited Russia lately say the committee is strangled in red tape. It does a good job in Moscow, under Stalin's eye, but cannot organize athletics in places as far apart as the Crimea in the south and Archangel in the north.

The one sport the committee has organized satisfactorily throughout the union is basketball.

Batting Crown For Ritchey Seems Certain

John Ritchey, of Vancouver Capilanos, appears certain to win the Western International League batting crown. He holds a 13-point edge over teammate Dick Sinovic with only two weeks to play.

Jim Wert of Spokane batted in 13 runs last week to boost his season's total to 102 and take the lead in that department. Sinovic is second with 97 and Ken Richardson of Spokane third with 96.

Home run leaders were unchanged.

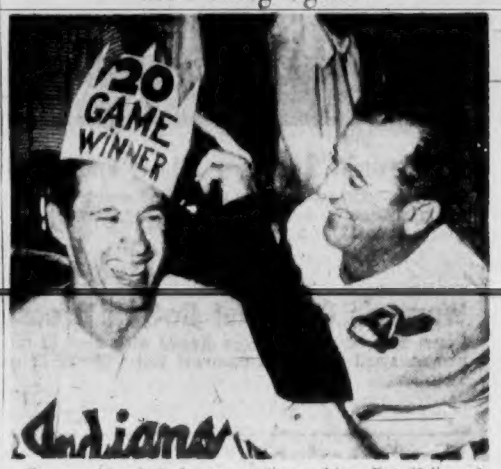
He's King Again



Former American League strikeout king, Bob Feller of Cleveland Indians is crowned by manager Al Lopez after winning his 20th game of season with 6-0 whitewashing of Washington Senators last night. Feller became first major league hurler to win 20 games this year and accomplished feat for sixth time in his career.—(AP wirephoto.)

Ban on Secret Weapon Ires Baseball's Barnum

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 21 (INS).—Bill Veeck, baseball's Barnum, protested tonight in no uncertain terms the American League's action in barring the St. Louis Browns' "secret weapon."

American League President William Harridge ruled in a decision announced in Chicago, that use of midget Edward Gaedel by the Browns would not be in "the best interests of baseball."

Veeck stormed:

"I don't see why anybody has authority to disapprove Eddie Gaedel's contract merely because he's only three feet, seven inches tall.

"Possibly it is because he's unfair to other clubs. If that's it, we object to such big guys as Ted Williams and Larry Doby because they're unfair to us.

"Gaedel got only one base when he was at bat. Those guys get four bases at a time.

OFFENSIVE WIZARD

"Why, Eddie is our offensive wizard. I thought the idea of a ball club is to win games by every legal method—and I don't see any rule that forbids a guy playing because of his size.

"It's not fair to legislate against a fellow because he doesn't grow. The action is very unfair but I suppose I'll go along."

Will Play Host To Navy Team

Eagles will play an exhibition baseball game against the United States Navy at Colville Road tomorrow starting at 6.30 p.m.

The U.S. team will be picked from the three American ships at present at Esquimalt.

Eagles will play another exhibition game Saturday against Bremerton, amateur champions of the State of Washington last year. The game will be played at Royal Athletic Park at 6.30 p.m.

Announce Draw In Net Tourney

Play will continue this evening in the club handicap tennis tournament at the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club. Today's draw and starting times follow:

5.30 p.m.—M. Parker and H. Richards vs. D. Elkington and C. Wilson; C. Foster and J. McCormick vs. S. Price and R. Praul; R. Mitchell vs. R. Weir; V. Sherman vs. P. Mellander; A. Clark vs. M. Ogle; J. Orchard vs. S. Pollard; J. Johnston vs. B. Noakes.

6 p.m.—W. Cameron vs. J. Scott.

6.30 p.m.—M. Helmsteter and R. Yellowlees vs. J. Rutter and R. Foster; R. Praul and W. Gelling vs. V. Drew and K. Birch; T. Woodruff and R. Weir vs. P. Mellander and P. Coste; N. Weir vs. S. Price.

Golf--- Here's How

By SAM SNEAD

Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

With wood clubs the ball is positioned forward of a centre line between the player's heels.

The reason is that with long-shafted woods the best flight is obtained when contact with the ball comes just after the club-head has reached the low part in the arc of the swing and is just starting to rise. Notice that straight left arm. By swinging your hands down, your clubhead will pass slightly inside out, across the dotted direction line at impact. Your pivot supplies the out-and-around action. A golf ball hit in this way—slightly inside-out is on its way for a long, arrowy flight with just a faint hook at the far end. The over-spin that this slight hook produces will give you five or 10 extra yards on the roll.

Remember When . .

George Wright, "grand old man of baseball," died at Boston 14 years ago today. Captain of the first professional ball club—the Cincinnati Red Stockings of 1869—his death removed one of the originals of the era of razor-like spikes, bare-hand catching and handlebar moustaches.

Record Canadian Cricket Attendance Seen for M.C.C. Games in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (CP).—Vancouver is agog today with cricket fever, awaiting the arrival tomorrow of the famous Marylebone Cricket Club team for a series of games on the coast.

The forecast is for perfect weather, warm and dry, and record attendance for cricket in Canada is predicted.

The tourists play their first game on the coast at historic Brockton Point grounds, described by Sir Don Bradman as the most beautiful cricket grounds in the world, tomorrow, starting at 1.30 p.m., when they meet a strong mainland league side in a half-day match.

On Thursday they will play against another strong mainland league eleven in an all-day match, starting at 11.15 a.m., while Friday and Saturday the first test match ever played in Canada will be staged.

LOOKS THINGS OVER

Realizing that the strongest opposition of the Canadian tour will be met here, skipper R. W. V. Robins of the touring M.C.C. side came to Vancouver ahead of the team and arrived today to rest up and look things over. He visited Brockton Point and confirmed what Bradman said as to the "beautiful situation."

For the game against the touring side, Canada has chosen a very strong team, one which should do itself proud if it does not suffer from stage fright against such an array of talent as the English side possesses.

Captaining the team will be Basil Robinson from Ottawa, a former Vancouver cricket star who is the only Canadian to ever win his cricket blue at Oxford University and play against Cambridge University at Lords. He is a right-arm medium paced bowler and a brilliant batsman.

FORMER PRO

Tom Brierley who was a professional with Glamorgan and Lancashire in English County cricket, and who is now coach in Vancouver, is a grand first-wicket batsman, and a wicket-keeper of first class experience with his Lancashire-born county.

Bill Hendy, a Vancouver detective who learned his cricket in the West Indies, has twice captained B.C. teams in the Canadian tournament. A left-arm bowler of immaculate length with both off and leg-breaks, Bill has taken 98 wickets already this season at a cost of less than seven runs each. Bill is also a terrific hitting left-hand man and has several centuries to his credit.

Robin Johnston, Vancouver, another British Columbia-born lad who has played for the province, is a right-arm medium-paced bowler with a lovely off-break and a beautiful length. He is also one of the leading batsmen in Canada.

FINE BATSMAN

Stan Hansen, Vancouver, left-arm bowler of medium pace, a fine batsman and also a magnificent fielder, who has also represented British Columbia in championship play.

George Nugent, Vancouver, left-arm medium-paced bowler with a fast break from leg, and also a batsman of more than average ability. Has twice performed the hat-trick this season and comes second to Hendy in the number of wickets taken. Has also played on B.C. teams.

Alan Percival of Toronto is a first-class bat and a wicket-keeper of repute who has played with Ontario in the championships.

Brian Christen of Toronto is a left-arm fast bowler who bowled six of the M.C.C. batsmen in Toronto in one of the games in the Queen City.

Maurice Rilston of Montreal is a right-arm googly bowler and also a better than average batsman.

Peter Cullimore of Calgary is a fine opening batsman and can also keep wicket in a pinch. He played with Alberta in the Dominion tournament.

MAY NOT BE READY

Aubrey Edwards of Edmonton is a fast bowler and a useful batsman, but he was forced to retire when he was hit on the leg while batting against the tourists last Saturday in Edmonton and may not yet be recovered from that injury.

Spare man is Ted Parkins of Victoria, a steady batsman and a useful bowler, who has played on both Ontario and British Columbia teams in the Canadian championships.

It is expected that nearly 5,000 will attend the opening of the test match on Friday.

Totem Pole Ashes To Be at Stake

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (CP).—A silver casket containing the ashes of a British Columbia totem pole will be presented to the winning team in the England vs. Canada test match, opening here next week.

The totem ashes, comparable to the famed "ashes" for which England and Australia compete, will be a permanent symbol of cricket supremacy between Canada and England.

The 10-foot thunderbird totem is a gift from Richard Bell-Irving, Vancouver sportsman.

Uncle Wiggily Story

By Howard Garis

ON THE RAFT AGAIN

Uncle Wiggily and Friskie Iskie were a little out of breath when they reached the rowboat where Bosun, Buster and Bunty were waiting for them on the shore of Mud Turtle Island in Frog Pond.

"Avast and Belay! What's the rush, Cap'n Wiggily?" asked the old sea dog. "Why did you come back in such a hurry, sir?"

"On account of the swarming turtles," answered the rabbit gentleman. "They tried to catch me. But Friskie chased his tail around and around and made the turtles so dizzy that they fell over on their backs. But I thought they might get over being dizzy and would chase me. So I hopped as fast as I could."

"Shiver my ice cream cone, Cap'n Wiggily, sir! I think that was the right thing to do. After going to the middle of this island, where Friskie climbed a tall tree to take a look, you didn't sight your missing raft, did you, Cap'n Wiggily?"

"No, Bosun, I didn't. But you said something about my raft being at Huckleberry Island. How do you know that?"

"Take a look at this, Cap'n Wiggily." Bosun held out a piece of white birch bark, almost like paper. There were some words written on it. Uncle Wiggily read the words and exclaimed:

"Why, this is signed by Pat Butter".

"That's right, Cap'n Wiggily. Your grocery store goat friend left this piece of bark stuck on that mulberry bush over there. I didn't see it until after you and Friskie had gone. He must have left what Uncle Butter says in his note?"

"Yes, Bosun, I do. Pat Butter says he and Mr. Turfbog navigated my raft here to Mud Turtle Island. Then, when they could not find me here, they sailed for Huckleberry Island."

"That's right, Cap'n Wiggily. So if we sail in our small boat to Huckleberry Island we'll find your raft there."

"I hope so, Bosun. But Pat Butter and that English bulldog may have sailed to some other island."

"Not very likely, Cap'n Wiggily," barked Bosun.

"I wonder," said the rabbit gentleman, "why Pat Butter sailed the raft to Huckleberry Island after he didn't find me here on Mud Turtle Island. Why, Bosun?"

"Why, this is signed by Pat Butter"

"Huckleberry Island is the next nearest island, daddy," said Buster.

"And maybe," said Bunty as she cuddled her talking doll in her paws, "maybe Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy wanted to get some huckleberries to make a pie."

"Ha! That's it!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "I wish we had some huckleberry pie right now."

"It surely would taste good," barked Bosun. "Well, all aboard in our little sailboat, Cap'n Wiggily, and we'll start for Huckleberry Island. Then we'll get aboard your raft again."

Bosun hoisted the sail. He steered the small boat toward the second island which was three miles from Mud Turtle Island.

The wind was strong, the sun was shining in the blue sky and it was a lovely day. After a while Buster shouted:

"Huckleberry Island ahoy! I see it, daddy!"

"Yes," answered Uncle Wiggily. "There's the island, Bosun!"

"I see it, Cap'n Wiggily. And I also see your raft. It is tied up on shore. And I think I see Nurse Jane waving her handkerchief at us. Now we're all right!"

"Well, Wiggy!" bleated Uncle Butter as the small boat drew alongside the raft. "I hope you were not worried when you couldn't find your raft. I thought I should go looking for you."

"Yes, Uncle Pat Butter, you did quite right. Now we can all together again on my raft. Careful, Bunty, in getting aboard."

"I'll be careful," promised the orphan rabbit. But a moment later there was a splash in the water and Bunty screamed.

But don't worry. Everything is going to be all right. I will tell you more about it in the story tomorrow if the rocking chair doesn't tip over backward and spill its cushion on the pussy-cat's tail.

Daily Astrology

By RITA DEL MAR

FOR WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 22, 1951

Today's quotation: "I never saw a wild thing sorry for itself." —David Herbert Lawrence.

Wednesday for everyone: The day lends itself best to the pursuit of regular tasks and objectives. Be a good shopper; effect savings; attend to employment and health interests. Evening: have fun but shun haste, impulse.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below:

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Rule out the possibility of error in practical affairs. Better your possessions, assets.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus)—Shape policies; guide the course of events; be an active participant in today's affairs.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Turn to unfinished business; clear your slate of matters that need a final touch.

June 21 to July 23 (Cancer)—Keep up contacts with persons in a position to promote your aspirations. Make friends.

July 23 to Aug. 22 (Leo)—Be active in business, career, parental interests. Evening: shun inharmony.

Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 (Virgo)—Expedite your over-all program. Make plans; take necessary trips.

Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 (Libra)—Try to derive some profit from the resources of others. Discharge debts.

Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 (Scorpio)—Solidify partnership, public ties. Call on those whose judgment you trust for advice.

Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius)—Make progress on the job front; gain ground regarding health, necessities.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 (Capricorn)—Enjoy some extra freedom, relaxation, fun. Ring in persons willing to help you today.

Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 (Aquarius)—Make a prompt start this morning; you can accomplish most during the daytime. Evening: effect savings.

Feb. 19 to March 20 (Pisces)—Swing your mental processes into "high gear." Do some rapid "brain work" to get ahead.

Planning Ahead — Good for sociability, entertaining, etc.: Aug. 22, 24; afternoon of 25, 28, 29, 30; Sept. 1, 3, 4, 5, 7, 11.

Cayuga Men Seek, Get Adventure

ABOARD H.M.C.S. CAYUGA, off Korea, Aug. 21 (CP)—This Canadian destroyer wanted some adventure. Her men thought they might get it doing inshore patrols. So one days back from a stretch of carrier escort duty, they asked for it.

They got it. In the space of a few days they took on enemy gun emplacements, rescued a group of South Korean soldiers pinned down by enemy fire, worked in so close to shore the warship got one engine plugged with seaweed, made one building vanish in a broadside, came under enemy fire but silenced it in a few minutes.

As one last event, Lieut. Donald Saxon of Victoria and Yorkton, Sask., took a landing party ashore and came under fire. But the fire wasn't accurate. There were no casualties.

THE T. EATON CO. OF BRITISH COLUMBIA LIMITED

Besides offering you the kind of merchandise you want for yourself, your home and your family . . . EATON'S provide little extra services that save time on your shopping excursions, makes them pleasure. We bring your attention to a few of these little extras . . . plan to take advantage of them next time you're shopping at EATON'S.

THE PARKING LOTS

In these days when parking space is at a premium, the two EATON Parking Lots are one of the services most useful to the shopping motorist. These are situated on Broughton Street, at the Bus Terminal, and on View Street just above Douglas Street. Shoppers who are taking home large parcels may have these delivered to the Parking Lot by asking for a parking check at the cash counter of any store department.

CHEQUE CASHING

For the convenience of shoppers who may have been late for banking hours a special section of EATON'S Accounts Office takes care of cheque cashing. This service has been augmented by the addition of a cheque cashing desk on the Second Floor of the House Furnishings Building . . . this new desk will also take payments on all Charge, D.A. and Budget Accounts.

THE POST OFFICE

Busy people will also find the Post Office, situated on the Lower Main Floor, Douglas Street side, a very handy extra customer service. Mail pickups are made twice daily, at 10.30 a.m. and 4.15 p.m. and all the regular post office services are available, with a parcel wrapping desk also provided.

THE SERVICE BUREAU

In a large Department Store many things can go astray, and small children are often likely to lose their parents. In such a dilemma the Service Bureau takes charge, as well as assisting with information about out of town delivery services, or any special requirements of customers. The Service Bureau is to be found on the Mezzanine Floor, above the Drug Department, or by phoning EATON'S at E 4141.

PERSONAL SHOPPER

If you're not able to get into town to do all your shopping, you'll appreciate the quick and easy service provided by our Personal Shopper. Just pick up your telephone, dial E 4141 and ask for the Personal Shopper, give her your list and she'll take over from there!

Island May Face Cut in Milk, Fuel

Two possible shortages face householders in the next few months, milk and fuel dealers reported yesterday.

Mainland reports indicated that milk supplies might have to be rationed soon in face of dropping production figures and lack of interest by some farmers to continue dairy herds in face of high costs.

Any rationing in the main area would be felt on Vancouver Island milk distributors were reported. Most supplies are transported to the Island for distribution.

DROUGHT COSTS

Lower production has resulted from drought conditions which cut feed supplies and also on the Island could result in high prices paid for dairy cattle slaughtering being very tight local by holders for meat to be ex dealers said.

Meanwhile wood and sawdust for dealers in the gated sport appears because of mill closures and the increasing on the road and. Extensive shutdowns on the Island could result in

Island, Mainland Representatives

Dairymen Seek Parley On Problem of Drought

Agriculture Minister H. Bowman has been requested to attend a conference next week on effects to the dairy industry of the summer-long drought.

"We are asking the minister to meet four dairy representatives from the lower mainland and one from Vancouver Island," said Charles Wade, secretary of the British Columbia Federation of Agriculture.

"We are also asking freight assistance on grain be extended day which may cause increase from Alberta and also assistance in another direction.

"A lack of hay supplies and the fact winter and supplies likely to be required has been undertaken by the Agriculture Department Mr. Bowman said re

Visitor Sees B.C. As Trade Centre

British Columbia may become the industrial centre of North America according to A. Bernard Shore executive vice president of Aircraft Tapered Sheets, Los Angeles.

Its strategic area natural resources and room for expansion are contributing factors to the province's growth, he said.

"American capital will flow to the province very soon," Mr. Shore added. "U.S. business men are turning eyes northward because of natural resources which offer possibilities for enormous expansion.

In addition the United States is crowded and beginning to feel lack of raw materials.

"It is also important that our two countries work together because of B.C.'s strategic situation," he said.

Of his own industry that of manufacturing precision instruments for jet aircraft, he said there are problems to be overcome in the jet field but turn over from propeller-driven aircraft to jet type is becoming rapid and within 10 years, the former will be rare, he said.

Kitimat Sale of Timber Confirmed by Officials

B.C. Forest Service officials confirmed yesterday they have advertised timber for sale from the Aluminum Company of Canada watershed behind Kitimat.

The timber will be flooded when lakes forming the Nechako River water system are flooded.

Located mainly within Tweedsmuir Park, the timber was formerly under a no-sale order.

Officials said it has not yet been determined definitely exactly how much of the timber sheets will be flooded. They estimate however that up to 25,000,000 board feet of timber may be for sale.

Reports circulated last week that 1,000,000,000 board feet would be sold before flooding were called erroneous by forestry officials.

J. A. McLellan Proposed

McNiven Suggests Probe By Former Police Chief

John A. McLellan, former city police chief, should be named to conduct an investigation into alleged dissension in the Victoria police department, Dr. F. L. McNiven, former police doctor, said yesterday.

The doctor deplored the fact that the police commission has turned the issue over to department heads to work out.

"If the commissioners did their duty, they would either inquire into the matter themselves and under public view or bring in an outsider to submit an impartial report. Who better could the city employ for a short time than ex-chief McLellan, the man who started the traffic department in the first place," said Dr. McNiven.

NO COMMENT

Asked for his reaction yesterday the former chief said he couldn't comment because he didn't know enough about the present situation.

The existing trouble came to light when Sgt. Brooke Douglass, traffic department head, asked the commission to relieve him of his duties and transfer him to the regular patrol branch. It is believed he made the request because his superiors have blocked his recommendations for improvement in the city's traffic conditions.

The police commission has held several closed meetings on the matter, and is now awaiting reports from the department. Sgt. Douglass has been asked to submit a report to Chief John Blackstock on how he thinks the department should be operated.

Dr. McNiven yesterday consented it was felt steps to relieve the problem to department heads "should be taken."

KNOW LITTLE

"Traffic is a subject the heads of the police department know very little about. Is the police commission delegating its duty and responsibility to the police department heads who apparently are committed to extermination of the traffic department?"

If Sgt. Douglass is losing to battle a half a dozen police department heads are probably fighting a losing battle, he judged. Laws are for police, even if it is against vested doctrine, said Dr. McNiven.

The doctor is interested in the present controversy because he resigned as city police doctor about six months ago in protest against handling of certain types of cases. He still acts for other municipalities. Dr. McNiven first spoke of dissention in the department earlier last year. He was granted a hearing before the commission at that time.

REPORTS WATCH TAKEN

Francis Crossley, an employee of Eaton's Ltd., told city police yesterday a $60 watch was taken after it had been placed on a table in a store washroom.

"Students" Learn Value of Stirrup Pump

Participants in current civil defense course yesterday battled fires in "building" outside defense headquarters, Cormorant Street. They found stirrup pump to be effective weapon. Pictured above left to right, are S. H. Kistruck, Victoria Machinery Depot police chief; Mrs. Ione Arnaldi manning the pump, and Constable N. A. Bouchard. Firefighter on extreme right is unidentified. He keeps below open window to guard against explosion.—(Colonist photos by Bud Kinsman.)

Mrs. Arnaldi, only woman taking course, is seen above discussing technical point with Major Cathcart Bruce, chief instructor.

FREE PARKING FOR CUSTOMERS ON OUR EXTRA LOT

Sitting pretty and built low to the ground, this stucco is spread out and has almost 1,100 sq. ft. Only built 1½ years. It's like new. The garden is fully improved with lots of privacy in the delightful rear flower garden with the front terraced in lawns. Five spacious rooms with through hall plan and L-shaped living room. Oil heat, insulation, range wiring, electric hot water and a particularly attractive log fireplace combined with the many other features, such as oversize attached garage, lots of cement walks, fishpools, etc. making this in a class of its own when offered for $8,500. Near bus, schools and store, on a nice residential street.

$12,600 — Craigdarroch Road area. Quaint home of many charms, built especially for an elderly couple with a thought to every comfort. No steps but a full basement. Auto oil hot-water heat, all floors oak, even in clothes closets. Living room 20x14 feet with excellent acoustic value for music lovers. Set among the trees and is handy to town on a very quiet, dignified street. Really a wonderful place for an elderly couple. About two years since built.

$11,000 — 1 ACRE — New home in Gaisenwood area. Never lived in. Background of trees with the acre mostly treed. This delightful 2-bedroom suburban residence is on the 4½-mile circle and features large picture windows, all oak floors, dry wall construction, many built-in features, and is ready for occupancy. Four spacious rooms and dinette. Some terms offered. Now clear title.

FOUR ROOMS AND DINETTE MODERN—JUST OFF SHELBOURNE NEAR McRAE

Board to Sit On Gas Export September 10

EDMONTON, Aug. 21 (CP)—Sessions of the Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board have been set for Monday, Sept. 10, in Calgary to deal with five applications permits to export natural gas.

The board was to have met Sept. 4 but the meeting was postponed because board members had other commitments.

There probably will be opening submissions by Northwestern Utilities Ltd. of Edmonton, and Canadian Western Natural Gas and Heat Co., Ltd., of Calgary, outlining their annual gas requirements.

Various applicants then are expected to make submissions dealing with Alberta's gas reserves.

Then the board is expected to adjourn and consider the major question: Whether development this year has given Alberta an exportable surplus.

Ex-City Priest Goes to Japan

Father McFarland will journey to the peninsula of Shimabaru with two newly ordained priests, Father Patrick McNamara and Father Michael Cox.

Nagasaki is the largest centre of Christianity in Japan. The trio will follow in the footsteps of St. Francis Xavier who brought christianity to Japan in the 16th century.

Father McFarland served in China's Chekiang Province from 1936 to 1943.

To Play in Park Concert

Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) brass band members talk over with friends one of the numbers to be presented at tonight's concert in Beacon Hill Park at 8 p.m. Bandsmen, left to right, are Kenneth Bishop, Ronald Spanos, Gus Michaux, Ernest Cairns. Band will share spotlight at concert with Red Triangle Concert Party, which traveled to Fort Lewis earlier this year. Man Given Six Months, Silenced by Magistrate

Lucien M. Provost, Westholme Hotel, was sentenced to six months in Oakalla by Magistrate A. I. Thomas in city police court yesterday. He had pleaded guilty to stealing a pair of pants valued at less than $25. It was his 34th conviction since 1927, with all previous offenses being of a similar nature.

"Your past record is not a very happy one," the magistrate remarked before passing sentence.

After hearing the sentence, Provost said: "Sir, I thought I was going to be allowed to say something."

"Not with a record like that!" Magistrate Thomas snapped.—

FINED $25

Harriett Pollard, 1289 Vista Heights, was fined $25 for operating a car without a current driver's license.

A fine of $15 was imposed upon Clifford J. Jackman, 4061 Wilkinson Road, for failing to have a chauffeur's license.

A careless driving charge against William Alexander Evans, 1133 Fort Street, was dismissed by Magistrate Thomas. The charge was laid following an accident at the corner of Government and Superior Streets in which cars driven by Evans and C. B. Pritchard, 284 View Royal Avenue, were involved.

Japan has the highest fish consumption in the world — 83.2 pounds per person.

Milk for Contented Babies

• Only the best is good enough for that precious baby of yours. So here's something every mother should know. When baby formulas are prescribed, doctors specify Carnation Evaporated Milk more than any other brand of milk. Yet this time-proven milk for babies costs no more than ordinary milk.

FREE — "Your Contented Baby", a fine book of advice and help on the training of Baby. Write to Carnation Company Limited, Toronto or Vancouver.

LISTEN to the Carnation "Contented Hour" starring Tony Marvis with Jo Stafford . . . every Sunday evening on the Dominion Network . . . see your newspaper for time and station.

WHY CARNATION IS APPROVED BY DOCTORS EVERYWHERE

SO NOURISHING, with all the important food values of fine, pasteurized, whole milk, plus 480 Units of vitamin D per pint. So digestible that it agrees even with premature and delicate babies.

CARNATION is extra safe — because it is first pasteurized, then it is sterilized after it is sealed air-tight in the can. And Carnation is completely uniform — no variation from can to can. Ask your doctor about Carnation for your baby.

Four Times Larger Than Intended

Central Saanich Given $6,524 as License Share

Central Saanich last night received a $6,524 cheek from the provincial government as the municipality's share from B.C. Motor Vehicle Branch motor license fees.

The check was more than four times larger than intended before Reeve Pickles made representation to the provincial treasury officials.

An amount was to be divided between Central Saanich and Saanich in accordance with apportionment board division of assets. Reeve Pickles argued that the treasury should make its own division and pay Central Saanich as a full-fledged municipality.

NEW HALL

The council gave the go-signal on plans for the new municipal hall to be built at an estimated cost of $16,000.

Arthur Lionel, municipal building inspector, will be the architect. Tenders will be called as soon as they are completed.

A motion by Councillor Ray Lamont to appoint Sidney fire chief Arthur Gardner as honorary technical adviser to the Central Saanich volunteer department found no seconder although Clr. Lamont and the reeve argued long in favor of the plan.

PROWLER TAKES SILVER

A prowler took between $5 and $6 in silver from Gordon Fish Ltd., 1319 Quadra, overnight Monday after gaining entry through an open skylight window, city police reported.

Delegate Describes Korean Trip

More than 200 persons heard Mrs. Norah K. Rodd, Canadian chairman of the International Women's Commission to Korea, last night, tell how American soldiers had "butchered" 500,000 women and 330,000 children in Korea.

Speaking at a meeting sponsored by the Victoria Peace Council, Mrs. Rodd described her trip from Prague, where as delegate from the Canadian Congress of Women, she was elected chairman of the 21-woman Korea commission.

SHOWS BOMB DAMAGE

One slide (which appeared to be a picture of a jettisoned wing tank from an American plane), Mrs. Rodd described as the shell of a napalm bomb which had burned thousands of persons alive.

There are more than 80 licensed airports in Canada, with many other emergency landing fields.

Culbertson on Bridge

(Copyright, 1951, by Ely Culbertson)

A great deal has been written and said about "trusting your partner rather than your opponents," but this, like all other advice, needs discriminating application. The fact is that sometimes it is wiser to "trust" the enemy. Let's look at a case:

South, dealer.
North-South vulnerable and 40 on score.

NORTH
♠ K Q J 6
♥ A 9 5 3
♦ Q 8 2
♣ A 7

WEST
♠ 5 2
♥ 4
♦ 9 3
♣ Q 10 9 8 6 4 2

EAST
♠ A
♥ K Q J 10 7 6
♦ 7 4
♣ K J 5 3

SOUTH
♠ 10 9 7 4 3
♥ 8 2
♦ A K J 10 6 5

This was the bidding in a high-stake New York game:

South	West	North	East
3♦	Pass	Pass(!)	3♥
3♠	4♣	6♠	Dbl.(!)
Pass	Pass	Redbl.	Pass(!)
Pass	Pass

Obviously, there was nothing to the play, and North-South scored a tidy 2,270 points.

A bidding coup of this dimension is not easily achieved, and North in particular deserved great credit for his performance. The key call in the above auction was North's swift pass to his partner's three-diamond opening! As he explained in postmortem, North was sure that an ace was missing from the combined hands, since South probably would not have preempted with two aces, and if South had any fairly normal distribution aside from his long diamond suit, an opening lead in hearts or clubs might establish a trick for the enemy before they lost their controlling ace. Besides, North pointed out, the part-score situation, with the opponents not vulnerable, suggested that East might compete, and then things might take an interesting turn!

After South's bid of three spades over East's three hearts, however, the picture changed radically, and now North stopped skirmishing! It is hard to believe that a player of experience—which East was—could be so lacking in ordinary prudence as to double a slam reached in such fashion; or, having doubled, to stand for the redouble. Also in the postmortem, East moaned that he thought his partner must have something for the club bid; but, wild as that club bid was, East should have been grateful for it—grateful enough to save at seven clubs!
